Woodstock Boys Perish in Sunday Fire Others Are Burned In Weekend Blazes

Two Woodstock boys perished, their father was seriously burned in an unsuccessful attempt to rescue them and four other members of the family escaped injury early Sunday when fire swept through part of their split-level home at 10 Silver Hollow Road, Woodstock, where he and two other youths were staying.

A 16-year-old Lake Hill youth was severely burned early yesterday, when fire broke out in a summer bungalow on Silver Hollow Road, Woodstock, where he and two other youths were staying.

A 74-year-old Port Ewen woman was painfully burned yesterday afternoon, when her clothes ignited as flames flashed from a barbecue grill outside her home on South Broadway in that community. Victims of the fatal Woodstock blaze were Bradford Margopoulos, 12, of 10 Whitney Drive, and his 10-year-old brother, Barry. They were the sons of William and Margaret Margopoulos.

Ulster County Coroner, Henry S. Hartley, of Saugerties, who investigated with State Police Lieut. A. F. Van Blaricum and Senior BCI Investigator Michael Lisman and the sheriff's department, said the two boys died of asphyxiation. He ruled the deaths accidental.

Dad in Futile Attempt

William Margopoulos, father of the two victims, was seriously burned as he fought his way through intense heat, dense smoke and flames in a futile attempt to save the lives of the two boys. Margopoulos was taken to Kingston Hospital suffering second and third degree burns on his hands, arms, feet and face.

According to Fire Chief Duncan Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Margopoulos were aroused from their sleep by dense smoke in their residence. Mrs. Margopoulos managed to telephone an alarm, giving the location of the burning home and then intense heat forced her to leave the telephone.

Smeared, Blackened

The alarm was sounded and Woodstock fire units sped to the scene. Chief Wilson said that when firemen arrived they found flames billowing from the entire front of the Margopoulos residence. Firefighters saw Margopoulos in his nightclothes, smeared with blood and blackened by smoke.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Margopoulos braved the flames and intense heat and rescued her daughter, Marla, 5, and 17-month-old Marley. She tossed them from an upper porch to neighbors who carried them to safety. Mrs. Margopoulos saw her 13-year-old son, Bruce, leap from the porch rails to the ground, then she jumped as flames neared her.

Originated in Kitchen

The fire, which Chief Wilson said originated in the kitchen area, burned swiftly through a large part of the house. Barry and Bradford were trapped upstairs and attempts by their father and firemen to save them were futile. Their bodies were found after the flames were quelled. One boy was on the bathroom floor, the other on the bedroom floor above the kitchen area.

Trooper Fred Cooper of the Kingston substation said the investigation of the fatal fire was still under investigation by officers of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation. Sheriff William B. Martin, Investigator Harold T. Bowers and Deputy Donald Hughes of the sheriff's office investigated at the scene. BCI Investigator Roger Gardner, Sergeant Joseph Ellsworth, Troopers John Kohland, John McMickle and James Kelly took part in the investigation.

Chief Wilson said firemen were in command of Capt. Stuart DeWitt of Co. 4, Zena, and Capt. Bruce Reynolds of Woodstock Co. 1. Sawkill Fire Co. was on standby call, and West Hurley firemen responded to a call to assist with a tank truck.

At about 1:30 a. m. Sunday, Lake Hill Fire Co. 3 in charge of Capt. Phillip Elmhuy responded to an alarm after fire was reported in a summer bungalow on Silver Hollow Road, Woodstock. Chief Wilson reported that Ronald Hucker, 16, of Lake Hill, who was in the frame summer home with two other youths, suffered second and third degree burns of the entire body.

Taken to Albany

Hucker was treated at the scene and then rushed by Doctors Ambulance to Kingston Hospital. He was transferred at 5 a. m. yesterday to Benedictine Hospital and at 2:30 p. m. was removed by the same ambulance service to Albany Medical Center.

State Police are continuing investigation of the summer home blaze. First Assistant Chief Peter Hoehn was in charge of the firefighters, according to Chief Wilson. The building was a total loss, fire officials said.

According to Wilson, Hucker was carried down a mountain side by the two other youths, who were not immediately identified.

At 3 p. m. Sunday, Mrs. Ju-

SUNDAY TRAGEDY—Fire extensively damaged this split level home of Mr. and Mrs. Margopoulos, 10 Whitney Drive, Zena, early Sunday morning, and claimed the lives of Bradford, 12, and his brother, Barry Margopoulos, 10. Their father was seriously burned in a futile attempt to save his two sons. Mrs. Margopoulos and her son, Bruce, 13, escaped by leaping from an upper porch after her two children, Marla, 5, and her sister Marley, 17 months, had been dropped from the rear porch to a neighbor who carried them to safety. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

Start Grim Look for More Bodies

Couple Dining Hit By Picture Window

WASECA, Minn. (AP)—Searchers probed through splintered rubble of homes smashed by tornadoes at Waseca and Albert Lea today grimly looking for more bodies in the aftermath of a night of storm terror which left a dozen dead, over 100 injured and property damage in the millions at eight communities and numerous farms.

50-Mile Area Target

A band of possibly a half-dozen tornadoes smashed across a 50-mile-wide area of southern Minnesota around the dinner hour Sunday night.

"It was horrible!" exclaimed Mrs. Archie Draheim of Waseca. "We were sitting at the dinner table eating when the picture window hit me and my husband right in the face. There was no warning. There was this terrible rain falling and all of a sudden I was diving along the floor with glass all around me."

She and her husband were treated for cuts at a hospital and released.

Countless others were similarly taken by surprise, even though a tornado watch had been issued by the Weather Bureau for the area.

The tornadoes roared upon them in the midst of heavy rains and nearing dusk, which apparently prevented them from watching the skies closely. Witnesses said the Waseca warning siren began blaring a couple of minutes after the tornado had passed.

One Almost Decapitated

One of the first on the scene at Waseca was Arthur Kost, whose ambulance service in Mankato took two ambulances to the stricken town of 6,100 some 25 miles to the east.

"I picked up two dead people, one of whom was almost decapitated," said Kost. "I saw several cars that had been knocked around like balls. At first, the hospital was a mass of confusion. People were sitting on chairs and lying on stretchers."

Waseca had five deaths confirmed Sunday night, and Sheriff Donald Eustice said, "I wouldn't be surprised if we found several more bodies." More than 60 persons were treated for injuries ranging from minor to critical. Forty-two were hospitalized.

About 20 Waseca homes were destroyed and 50 damaged as the twister cut a path two blocks wide and eight blocks long — touching down in the southeast part of the town, then skipping over a lake only to begin smashing homes again on the other side.

Albert Lea had a wider area of destruction, but the known death toll there was two—Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Manual of Albert Lea.

Ten persons were hospitalized at Albert Lea. Twenty others were treated and released.

The tornado hit Albert Lea's west side, then slid around the north edge of the city of 19,000. It cut a path about 20 feet wide for 2 1/2 miles, damaging or destroying nearly 100 homes.

At Albert Lea, nearly 150 residents of St. John's Home for the Elderly escaped injury although six windows were blown in and at least 10 rooms in the home had their walls pierced by tornado debris.

A spokesman for the home said it was a miracle the residents were not in the dining room lounge, where the six large plateglass windows shattered. They would have been there if the advent of Daylight Saving Time Sunday had not pushed their dinner time back one hour.

BEHEADED—Lowering sky still frames house that was beheaded by tornado which hit Waseca, Minn., Sunday night. House was called total loss. The night of storm terror left a dozen dead, over 100 injured and property damage in the millions at eight communities and numerous farms. UPI TELEPHOTO.

No New Weapons Shown

Usual Barbs Mark Soviet May Day

MOSCOW (AP) — Marshal Andrei A. Grechko, the new Soviet defense minister, opened May Day ceremonies in Red Square today with standard Soviet attacks on the United States, West Germany and Red China.

Saving Up Surprise

No new weapons were among the 330 that rumbled through the square in the annual parade. Observers believe the armed forces are saving up surprise weapons for a splash display on Nov. 7, the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

Workers throughout the Eastern Hemisphere and in parts of Latin America celebrated labor's traditional day. Although Labor Day is celebrated in September in the United States, American groups held loyalty marches Saturday in cities from Newport, Ore., to New York.

The Moscow parade displayed anti-aircraft rockets of the kind used in North Vietnam against American planes, antiballistic missiles and 110-foot intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Among those on the reviewing stand were Communist party Secretary General Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Somewhat Milder

Grechko made a milder speech than usually came from his predecessor, the late Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky.

In his six-minute speech, he charged that the "monopolistic bourgeoisie" in the United States are responsible for the Vietnamese war.

"The end of the imperialist aggressors' gamble in Vietnam would approach much quicker if there were unity of action of all Socialist countries including China, in rendering help to the fraternal Vietnamese people," Grechko said.

Peking Men Bolt

Chinese Charge d'Affaires An Chih-vuan and an aide walked out in protest against the mention of China.

The 63-year-old defense minister also accused some elements in West Germany of increasing their activity to change European frontiers and get nuclear weapons.

Yanks KO 3 MIGs; 49 Marines Killed

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. pilots shot down three more communist MIG's over North Vietnam today while just south of the demilitarized zone U. S. Marines suffered and inflicted heavy casualties battling North Vietnamese soldiers for a strategic hill.

The MIG kills brought to 48 the total number reported shot down in the war, including four in the last two days. The U.S. command has announced the loss of 13 U.S. planes to MIGs.

There was no announcement whether any U.S. planes were lost in the latest dogfights, but in a delayed report the U.S. command said an Air Force F-4C Phantom was downed by the two crewmen were listed as missing. It was the 522nd American plane reported lost over the North.

The spokesman said the Marines killed 180 Communists. Elements of two Marine battalions clung to their positions overnight and moved forward today in a new attempt to take the summit for use as an outpost for checking North Vietnamese movements. There are reported to be 35,000 North Vietnamese regulars in and around the demilitarized zone, possibly poised for a major assault.

5 Seek Election To Board Posts

Polling places will be open on Tuesday, May 2 from 12 noon to 9 p. m. (EDST) in the Kingston Consolidated School District, when qualified voters will elect two members of the Board of Education to fill vacancies.

Candidates seeking the two-five years posts are: Milton L. Reynolds, staff programmer in the Programming Systems Group at IBM, an incumbent board member; Thomas W. Reynolds, Jr., proprietor of Tom Reynolds Studio, 270 Fair Street, and widely known civic leader; Richard Hajec, of Woodstock, chief aerodynamicist at Rotron Manufacturing Co.; Thomas J. Wickman, president of the Ulster Chapter of New York State Society of Professional Engineers, who is the Kingston City engineer; and Mrs. Winifred Fallon, of Woodstock.

Couple, 3 Children Victims

MECHANICVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—The pajama-clad bodies of a father, mother and their three children were found shot to death Sunday in the bedrooms of their yellow, frame house in nearby Clifton Park.

State Police said initial indications were that one member of the family had committed four homicides and a suicide but added they could not discount the possibility of an outside intruder.

Troopers identified the dead as Roy Bell, 33, his wife, Marie, 31, a son, Roy Jr., 13, and two daughters, Cheryl 10 and Lynn 6.

State Police Capt. S.A. Chieco said the bodies were found in all three bedrooms of the two-story home on rural Route 146 and could have been there since Friday, the last time any member of the family may have been seen.

He also said a .357 - caliber magnum revolver had been found by one of the bodies but declined to reveal whether it was considered the death weapon.

Bell and his wife were described as quiet and pleasant, with a neighbor's wife adding that Mrs. Bell always appeared well-dressed. Bell was employed at Behr - Manning Co. in the nearby Hudson River city of Watervliet.

Chieco and State Police Capt. George Abare said there were no initial indications who had done the shooting.

Troopers indicated that relatives became apprehensive when they could not telephone the Bells and notified State Police.

Troopers were generally tight-lipped about the scene inside the house. "Just picture five people dead down there," one told newsmen.

The five bodies were moved to the Ellis Hospital Morgue, Schenectady, where autopsies were planned. Ballistics tests were slated for the weapon, police said.

Bond Figures Await Council

Bond sums totaling $238,800 are to be considered by the Common Council Tuesday night.

No report or action on initial effort to gain a new city hall for downtown's urban renewal site is expected to be taken at the Tuesday session.

One Bond Issue of $97,000 is to cover the city's share of construction in downtown's Broadway East urban renewal area, of a community center complex, the total cost of which is estimated at $363,000.

The center is to be built near the Rondout Gardens housing project on which preliminary work is in progress.

Another bond sum of $73,000 is to cover spring and summer street work and a third for $69,800 is for purchase of a modern aerial fire truck.

Charles J. Cole, public works superintendent, recently noted that street work this year will involve more resurfacing than reconstruction.

An aerial truck of a type the city is interested in buying was

Business Mirror Reflections

Stock Market Activity Ignores Current News

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market in recent days has given classic examples of its peculiar personality which concentrates on the future for tips and scours the past for lessons, but often ignores the present entirely.

Trading in the stock of General Motors, the nation's largest manufacturer, provides an example.

Reports Drop
GM reported on April 26 a 34.5 per cent drop in quarterly earnings. The next day, however, its stock rose $1.50 to $84.75, its highest 1967 price to that date. It closed the week with another gain to $86.50.

The obvious lesson, one that most people understand but sometimes forget, is that the market does not deal with the present alone. More often, it tries to forecast what the future will bring.

Obviously also, it frequently is wrong. Otherwise all stock market pundits would be winners, which we know them not to be. However, the market does seem to have foretold the troubles of the automakers.

Early in 1966 GM stock sold at $108.25. Evidence then accumulated that future car sales might slacken. The price nosedived to $65.62. Now, in the relatively poor GM earnings report, we seem to have verification that the stock market anticipated correctly.

Nobody can say what the future holds, but buyers of GM stock began a few months ago to ignore the presence of bad news. They began bidding up the price in anticipation of a return to good times, and GM now sells at about $20 above its 1966 low.

This entire business of anticipating news, "discounting" it, sometimes causes consternation among small investors.

There is considerable belief, in fact, that the market as a

Eye Exam Law

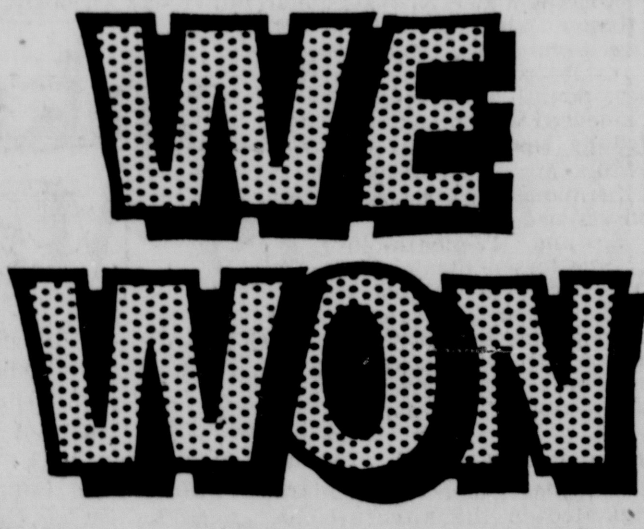

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A new state law requires drivers to have their eyes examined every three years when they renew their licenses. An old law required tests every nine years.

whole forecasts the economy as a whole. A rising market supposedly presages an expanding economy. A shrinking market is said to precede a recession.

This theory leaks. It was all wet, for instance in 1962, when a plummeting market seemed to foretell bad times. Instead, the existing boom became a super-boom.

The New York Stock Exchange Index is now at an all-time high. Last Thursday it reached $51.45, topping the previous high of $51.06 on Feb. 9, 1966. It closed the week with still another record at $51.54. In fact, since the low of Oct. 7, 1966 it has risen 30 per cent.

These high averages certainly do not reflect the present economy, which has been more sluggish than in almost any period in the past six years. But presumably they represent an expectation of the future.

Crash Is Fatal to FDR's Head of Agriculture

DELPHI, Ind. (AP) — Claude R. Wickard, a secretary of agriculture under President Franklin D. Roosevelt, was killed Saturday in an automobile-truck collided three miles south of here.

Claude R. Wickard

The accident occurred about noon at the junction of U.S. 421 and Indiana 18, Wickard, 74, back the candidacy of the late President John F. Kennedy.

He was born Feb. 28, 1893, on the Carroll County, Indiana farm, near Camden which had been in his family since the 1840s.

A 1915 graduate of Purdue University, he had served on its board of trustees since June, 1963.

Wickard's political career began with his election in 1933 as an Indiana state senator. This experience and that at farming led to his appointment in 1940 as undersecretary of agriculture when the office was vacated by the late Henry A. Wallace, who was alone in his car.

Wickard, a nationally known farmer, served as secretary of agriculture from 1940 until 1945.

He later was appointed administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration from 1945 to 1953 under former President Harry S. Truman.

Wickard was the Democratic nominee for U. S. senator in 1956 but lost to Homer Capehart, the incumbent Republican.

Since his retirement from government service he had operated the family farm. His wife, the former Louise Eckert of Logansport, died several months ago.

Lawyers Give Awards

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Bar Association made five citizenship awards today, including citations to a United Nations undersecretary and a retired Buffalo newspaper editor.

The five, named to receive the awards at local ceremonies honoring the tenth observance of Law Day, are:

— Alfred H. Kirchhofer, president of WBEI Inc., and retired editor of the Buffalo Evening News.

— Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, U.N. undersecretary and a Nobel Peace Prize recipient.

— Mrs. Jerome A. Schack, former president of the League of Women Voters of New York City and current judicial chairman of the State League.

— Bernard Golub, of Schenectady, chairman of the board of Central Markets, a 26-store supermarket chain.

— Thomas W. Higgins, president of the Merchants National Bank and Trust Co. of Syracuse.

The winners were chosen from nominations by local bar groups.

School Nurse Teachers Name Syracuse Woman

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Miss Doris Weinz of Syracuse is the new president of the New York State School Nurse Teachers Association.

Miss Weinz was elected Saturday during the group's second annual conference, which ended here Sunday by two shots from a .22 caliber rifle at the home of Mrs. Cheryl Johnson, 20, police said.

Detectives said Johnson was carrying an awl, a leather-working tool, which he used to force open a storm door to the home.

They said Mrs. Johnson obtained an order of protection from Monroe County Family Court, directing her husband not to bother her, after the couple separated last July.

She purchased the rifle last week after Johnson tried to force his way into the home, police said they learned.

No charges were placed against Mrs. Johnson, but police said the case would be referred to the grand jury if investigation showed that a law violation was involved.

Warn Utilities on Ads ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — All utility companies in New York State were on notice today to "exercise extreme caution in any further extension" of promotional activities.

The State Public Service Commission issued that warning Sunday, while conceding that none of the promotional activities it had studied so far were "unreasonable, discriminatory or preferential."

The PSC announcement stemmed from a proceeding begun when a fuel merchants' group complained against promotional activities of Consolidated Edison Co., a New York City utility. As the investigation progressed, the state agency said, it was broadened to include all utilities.

The watchdog group set down guidelines, including a stipulation that promotion costs must not be so large as to impose a burden on utility customers, who would bear the expense in rate charges.

Phone Company Faces Possible Union Walkout

A strike against the New York Telephone Company by the Communications Workers of America is a definite possibility according to CWA Local 1120 representative Robert Smith.

Local 1120 encompasses Ulster, Dutchess, Greene, and Sullivan Counties and parts of Delaware County.

Ask Strike Vote Smith, who represents 125 union members in the area, told The Freeman that the bargaining committee of the union has advised members to take a strike vote. The bargaining committee reportedly rejected the Telephone Company's last offer, Friday.

Any strike vote would have to come from the members. The CWA has 23 locals in the state, comprising over 26,000 members. The union represents repairmen, linemen, construction and maintenance departments and some clerical workers. Telephone operators are not in the union.

Paper ballots will be mailed to each union member in the state to their homes. They are returnable by May 22.

List Grievances According to Smith, the main obstacle to agreement was the request of clarification of contract language. There has been strong dissension in union ranks concerning the company's policies on overtime. The union wants overtime policies set forth in the contract. They also want a five-day, 40-hour work week.

The current contract expired Feb. 26 and negotiations have been held in New York City since March 27. The bargaining is for a three-year pact to expire Feb. 25, 1970.

Smith said the Telephone Company has agreed to full retroactivity on the contract.

Guenet Ready To Fly Again, Picket Survivor

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP) — The lone survivor of the Air Force radar picket plane which crashed off Nantucket Island says he is ready to fly in the same type of plane again as soon as he is able.

"I like to fly," said 1st Lt. Joseph L. H. Guenet, 29, of Island Pond, Vt., at a hospital news conference Sunday. "I believe the aircraft is basically a sound aircraft."

The deaths of 15 other crewmen in the crash Tuesday night brought to 50 the toll in three crashes of the huge, $7.2-million Otis-based planes within 22 months.

Otis has temporarily grounded the craft for inspection. Congressional and Air Force investigators also are studying its safety.

Guenet, father of two young children, said the plane was at about 2,000 feet some eight minutes after taking off from Otis "when we felt something like a small explosion and then there was fire on the right side."

"We went into a dive and then leveled off and then we hit something hard," he said.

"The first thing I knew after that I was under water and swimming up toward fire. When I broke the surface there was fire all around me. I could hear the sound of flames and the waves. There wasn't anyone."

Probe Shooting Death

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Police continued their investigation today into the death of a man who, they said, was shot when he broke into the home of his estranged wife in violation of a court order.

The man, Terrance Johnson, 22, of Bridgeport, Conn., was felled Sunday by two shots from a .22 caliber rifle at the home of Mrs. Cheryl Johnson, 20, police said.

Detectives said Johnson was carrying an awl, a leather-working tool, which he used to force open a storm door to the home.

They said Mrs. Johnson obtained an order of protection from Monroe County Family Court, directing her husband not to bother her, after the couple separated last July.

She purchased the rifle last week after Johnson tried to force his way into the home, police said they learned.

No charges were placed against Mrs. Johnson, but police said the case would be referred to the grand jury if investigation showed that a law violation was involved.

VOTE IN SCHOOL ELECTION

Two vacancies on the Board of Education of Kingston Consolidated School District will be filled by voters in the district Tuesday. In selecting two members for this important trust, voters will make their choice from five candidates listed on the ballot.

Willingness of these members of our community to give their time and talents to this form of community service is commendable. The terms are for five years and there is no salary. Will the qualified voters of the school district display similar public interest in our educational system by going to the polls and casting their ballots tomorrow?

In past district school elections here, there has been a shameful display of indifference on the part of residents. If the vote cast is representative of local interest in our school system, then a deplorable situation exists, which should be of deep concern to all citizens.

Residents of the district should realize that the administration of our schools is a vital function of local government. The amount spent each year for education here is one of the largest expenditures the taxpayer must meet.

Members of the board are representatives of all the people in the district, entrusted with the responsibility of coping with all problems affecting education within the consolidated district. They adopt an annual budget to finance the operations of the schools, assume responsibility for capital outlay and consider recommendations of the superintendent in matters of policy and other pertinent business concerning the welfare of the schools.

It is well to remember the prime objective of the Board of Education is to secure the best education possible for the children. In this pursuit, urgent educational needs and expenditures must be balanced with the desire of the taxpayer for the best at the least possible cost. With new problems constantly arising from rapidly increasing school population, it is important to elect qualified members capable of making the right decisions. Qualifications of all candidates should be considered just as carefully as those of any other public office.

Alert and well-informed citizens supporting dedicated school trustees are as vital to the school system as are educational dollars. Taxpayers as well as board members should familiarize themselves with the needs of the schools and the services they offer.

When a taxpayer fails to go to the polls, he forfeits his right to complain about the administration of the school system and the school taxes.

Polls will be open tomorrow from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Candidates are prepared to devote many evenings throughout the year to the work of the education board. Can any of us refuse to take a few minutes to cast our ballot?

THOSE RAPID TAX SHIFTS

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, the chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee which writes tax legislation, is not at all happy about the Administration's plan to adjust tax rates frequently as a means of avoiding inflation and recession.

In a speech to the American Enterprise Institute forum on fiscal policy, Mills rejected the theory of the President's Council of Economic Advisers that frequent tax changes are necessary to keep the economy prosperous and growing.

Referring specifically to the suspension of the 7 per cent investment credit tax last October and the pending legislation to reinstate it, Mills said, "I hope the lesson will be drawn that taxes should not be raised and lowered from season to season like the hemlines of women's skirts and dresses."

In another jab at the President's advisers, Mills added, "It is also to be hoped that those who have so enthusiastically advocated frequent, short-term tax rate changes have been sobered by the turn in the economic indicators and the question as to whether they have properly discerned the major tendencies in the economy."

Mills indicated that he believed that the Administration is right in thinking that the tax system generates such an enormous and rapid growth of revenues that it can create a "fiscal drag" on the whole economy through the reduction of private spending power. However, he argued against higher Government spending to cure the drag. Instead, he argued for regular, frequent and significant reductions in the tax rates.

Naturally, taxpayers would agree wholeheartedly with Mills. They should be enthusiastic over such a powerful advocate of meaningful tax reductions to allow people to spend their surplus earnings as they please, instead of giving it increasingly to the Government to spend for more and more public programs. Sooner or later taxpayers will revolt against paying more and more of their hard-earned incomes in higher taxes.

Peacenik Sniping Costs American Lives

WASHINGTON—This is a tale of two visitors to the United States.

The presence of the one, Svetlana Alliluyeva, daughter of the Soviet Communist dictator, Joseph Stalin, reflects the simple yet profound truth that this is indeed the home of freedom and of free dissent.

In bitter fullness she has known the other thing; and her testimony as to what she has found here is the testimony of a witness whose credibility few would question.

The other visitor wears a uniform, as commander of our forces in Vietnam, and he is here to report on the war to the government and people.

But where Stalin's daughter finds the air of liberty bracing here, Gen. William Westmoreland finds himself being used in the Senate by a little band of willful men as a stage prop for a shabby melodrama through which the integrity of his country's actions in Vietnam is being attacked.

General Westmoreland has dared to say that purely irresponsible sniping at the American position by an implacable peacenik handful here is encouraging the enemy and costing American lives. For this, this fair and reasonable man is himself now made the target-symbol of yet more shrill assaults upon what he and this government are trying to do to rescue a tortured people from Communist invasion.

The Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Sen. J. William Fulbright, accuses General Westmoreland of trying to stifle debate, though what Westmoreland has said has been said before by dozens of callers to North Vietnam, including nonaligned statesmen, by the retiring American Ambassador to South Vietnam, Henry Cabot Lodge, and by many others, not excluding the Communist boss of North Vietnam, Ho Chi Minh himself.

Thus it is that an honorable soldier, who has come home entitled to the gratitude of a nation, instead sees himself and his mission cheapened in the Senate of the United States by pacifist-isolationists who choose to regard him as the mere pawn in some plot to "suppress" a persistent, an irresponsible, and a bitter running attack from within upon the policy of a country at war.

The Fulbrights, who for two years have overwhelmingly lost in their Democratic roll-call test every challenge they have made to that policy, have now resorted to the ugliest line of all. They demand freedom endlessly to assail American actions; but whenever they are answered, they proclaim themselves victims of an attempt to deny that "free discussion" which so endlessly they have exercised.

In fact, they have long since destroyed any possibility of reasoned debate. For consistently they deny to their adversaries the right which they themselves so notably use.

No responsible person on the pro-war side has ever challenged their privilege to obstruct the war in Vietnam. Still, constantly they present themselves as harassed heroes because those who disagree are not willing to give them an open-ended forum without fear of rebuttal.

Tirelessly they suggest that the United States is at fault that peace has not returned; never do they mention the demonstrable truth that it is the North Vietnamese Communists who repeatedly have refused even to consider a negotiation which did not involve American and South Vietnamese surrender.

Tirelessly they impeach their own government for "escalation of the war"; never do they note that every escalation on our side has been taken only after escalation by the enemy.

Tirelessly they talk of the scattered civilians unavoidably killed by our bombing in the North; never do they lament the scores of thousands of South Vietnamese civilians deliberately murdered by encroaching Communists.

Tirelessly they set themselves up as standing pitifully alone for right and truth and cruelty used by an intolerant majority; never do they refer to the fact that never before in wartime has such enormous license been used by so few against so many.

This, then, is the story of the second of our visitors. Around his person is being constructed an elaborately spurious strawman that this is a land not of freedom but rather one in which "dissent" is driven underground.

Underground? The tiny anti-Vietnam war minority has had more notice in more places over a longer time than any minority has had in any war in which this or any other country has ever been engaged.

Henry J. Taylor Says

Public Still in Dark About Cuba

Latin-American chiefs-of-state at Punta del Este told President Johnson about new threats from Castro's Cuba. But does our public know it?

Cuba is the great moral loophole in President Johnson's proper contentions about why we are fighting in Vietnam.

Ever since the Bay of Pigs, year in year out, the Kennedy-Johnson policy has been: "See no Cuba, speak no Cuba, hear no Cuba"—the island that the United States swore to defend.

We are interested in the people of South Vietnam. Are we not interested in the people of Cuba? If Vietnam is so important to us 15,000 miles away, isn't Cuba important to us inside our own Caribbean defense perimeter?

Along with Prussian General Karl von Clausewitz, our own great naval theoretician, Rear Admiral Alfred T. Mahan, always has been a mentor to Soviet strategists. He is taught in the highest Soviet armed forces echelons. Long ago Mahan said: "The Caribbean Sea is the strategic key to the two great oceans that flank the United States. Cuba, in turn, with its 700-mile coastline, is the key to the Caribbean. As between three possible strategic bases, Cuba—always Cuba—is indispensable."

Obviously, the Soviets would rather be sitting there today even than in Alaska. And why not?

Here are some things President Johnson heard among the assembled Latin-American chiefs-of-state:

Following on the heels of a 10,000-ton Russian ship, the Cuban merchant vessel Cerro Pelado left the port of Mariel for Hanoi with trained guerrilla troops, arms and all needed equipment, supporting four mobile missile units operating with Cuban crews in Vietnam.

The Russian missile units there are the same as those the Soviet maintains in Cuba. Vietnam is serving as the Cuban crews' training ground.

In a single month 166 executions took place at Castro's La Cabana fortress in Havana. Before the men and women are put to the wall, about seven pints of blood are extracted from each, chiefly for sale to the North Vietnam government at $50 a pint. The transactions go through the P.U.R.S., Cuba's Communist party. Trucks bear the bodies to mass graves at Mariano, a Havana suburb.

Dr. Miguel Angel Olba Benito, Secretary General of the Committee for Humane Treatment for Political Prisoners, is protesting this officially to the Organization of American States' Commission on Human Rights.

Cuban-based Soviet submarines have changed the Caribbean into their lake. At daybreak recently our Navy staged amphibious drill "Operation Landflex" (top secret) on remote Vieques Island, south of Puerto Rico. We found waiting there—waiting—electronically equipped Soviet submarines that monitored and photographed the secret drill completely.

Venezuelan President Raul Leoni reported that the Soviet has increased its financing of the Castro subversive organization, the General Directorate of Intelligence (DGI), expanding it to 43 training camps. These supply complete courses in sabotage, political action, street demonstration techniques and urban guerrilla methods.

President Leoni also reported on the recent assassination of Julio Iribarren, the brother of Venezuelan Foreign Minister Ignacio Iribarren and former Director of Social Security. He offered the report of Interior Minister Reinado Mora:

"The subversion springs directly from the recent Tricontinental Solidarity Conference (Red delegations from 83 Afro-Asian-Latin-American countries) in Havana. Julio Iribarren was cruelly tortured before being shot and pamphlets of the 'National Liberation Front of Venezuela' covered his body, the standard intimidation signal in Castro's terror strategy."

Bolivia's President said famous Castroite French Communist Jules Regis Debray commands the guerrillas in the terrorized Yacunday district.

Colombia President Carlos Lleras Restrepo estimated at thousands the number of Cuba-backed infiltrators in the universities, cultural centers, communications media, transport facilities and labor unions. He'd been forced to declare martial law and to arrest Red leader Gilberto Veyra. Colombia police actually discovered clandestine arms being made in Colombia's Ministry of Public Works.

Claim Foes of Viet War Won't Accept Criticism

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Much has been said lately about the right of dissent and alleged efforts to stifle it. But now the critics of the Vietnam war are themselves refusing to recognize the right of rebuttal by the Administration. Bitter comments have been made by several senators, who claim that the dissenters are being accused of "treason."

Senator Mark Hatfield, Republican of Oregon, speaking on Wednesday to the Yale Political Union at New Haven, Conn., said:

"What kind of men have we at the helm of government who would deliberately coerce the public into accepting their policies on the threat of being branded traitors? These are the tactics of tyrants with little understanding or respect for the constitutional rights of men. 'Have Americans become so mesmerized by the McCarthyite tactics of the Administration — the tactics of indiscriminate insinuation of unpatriotic motives to those that dissent — that they fail to recognize the threat of these tactics to liberty?'"

Unfortunately, many of the critics not only are misinformed, but they do not examine carefully what has actually been said by the spokesmen for the United States Government.

Thus, the real complaint of the Administration is that the speeches and statements of the critics are being regarded in Hanoi as a sign of American dissension and disunity and are being accepted as meaning that America will shortly pull out of the war because of a divided opinion at home.

Henry Cabot Lodge, who has just completed a long period of service as ambassador to South Vietnam — and was himself formerly a member of the United States Senate — told a news conference that "the appearance of disunity in America prolongs the war."

This is, of course, but another way of saying that the critics are giving "aid and comfort" to the enemy. To many persons the phrase is synonymous with the concept of treason.

Even in the face of serious damage to the American cause in Vietnam resulting from the speeches and statements by the dissenters at home, there has not been the slightest indication from any Administration source that it wishes to squelch dissent or otherwise interfere with freedom of speech. What the critics overlook is that the right of rebuttal is equal in importance to the right of dissent. The Washington Post said editorially on Thursday:

"The government of a free society has no right to suppress, restrain or punish dissent; but it is under no obligation to refrain from reply or rebuttal."

On the same day the Washington Star commented: "Dissent is not an exclusive prerogative of Senators, nor are they entitled to any special immunity when they choose to dissent . . . the dissenting Senators have no right to stifle dissent from those who disagree with them."

One of the most significant statements by any of the critics was made on Wednesday by the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, in a speech at a meeting in Norwalk, Conn., sponsored by church groups. Dr. Blake, general secretary of the World Council of Churches and for many years a leader in the Presbyterian Church in America, came closer than anybody else to demanding that the United States stop the fighting and surrender to the enemy. He outlined these four points as peace terms:

"Stop bombing North Vietnam . . . make it clear that we will not impose our peace upon Vietnam . . . agree with our allies in Asia and Europe that we will accept any peace that they will develop and agree to. Put our full effort to getting to the negotiation table."

The strangest thing about the whole controversy is that the critics pay no attention to the indefatigable efforts of the United States government over many months to get the enemy to negotiate. They seem to think that the only way to attain peace is by surrender, with no guarantee that South Vietnam will not be overrun by Communist forces as self-government is denied the people.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

SHOULD 18-YEAR-OLDERS VOTE?

Wherever there are votes, some politicians will go. And now that the post-World War II "baby boom" has resulted in a big increase in that portion of the population that is in the 18-20 age bracket, it is scarcely surprising that a campaign is on to lower the voting age from 21 to 18.

The Kennedy's, Bobby and Ted, who are consciously pitching their appeal to youth, are in the forefront of the move to let the 18-20-year-olds have the franchise. The issue will certainly come up at the New York State Constitutional Convention, and, since Governor Nelson Rockefeller and Presidential aspirant Dick Nixon both agree with Bobby Kennedy that 18-year-olds should vote, a change in the State voting pattern could easily become a reality before 1968.

This doesn't mean that it is necessarily a good thing to lower the voting age. Since liberals are usually for change for the sake of change if they can find no better reason for it, one would expect to find a clear-cut division between liberals and conservatives on the issue. But, surprisingly, it is a liberal Democrat, Representative Emanuel Celler of the New York Tenth Congressional District, who has taken the lead in Bobby Kennedy's home state in fighting the idea that 18-year-olds are sufficiently mature to exercise good judgment. Celler is one of our most valiant trust-busters, and one would have supposed that he would have opened his arms to the 18-20-year-old group as natural recruits for his crusading beliefs. But Manny Celler's intellectual honesty has kept him from seeking support in the swinging set.

"There are sound psychological reasons," he says, "why the age of 21 has been considered the beginning of maturity." Adolescents, he says, are "easily inflamed" and see things "in patterns of black and white without shadings." Addressing himself to the argument that if a boy "is old enough to fight, he is old enough to vote," Celler says "the qualities which make a good soldier hardly make a good voter. Thus, 'instant obedience' . . . 'not to stop to question why,' 'quick reflexes,' 'physical fitness,' are indispensable qualifications for good soldiering. And scrutiny, critical appraisal, a point of view, a philosophy, are essential in effective voting. So, to say that if he is old enough to fight he is old enough to vote is hardly following the principles of logic."

How good are Celler's arguments? Having watched four children grow to age 21, I can tell him that rates of development are different. But our high school education is not yet up to preparing 18-year-olds to vote. Few high schools give even the most elementary training in economics. The course in "problems of democracy" are all very well, but the student still needs experience in the workaday world to check realities against abstractions. Of my four who have reached 21, only one was ready to vote while he was still 20. And this was because he had had the opportunity to check classroom knowledge against what he learned as a reporter on a newspaper during the summer months.

The argument is made that 18-year-olds are already meeting their responsibilities, and therefore have earned the citizen's franchise. No doubt some have. The boy who is earning his way through college could presumably be trusted with the vote. The 19-year-old soldier lying in jungle mud may be sufficiently mature to deserve the franchise. But what about the bottle breakers who take the family's second car to Fort Lauderdale in Florida for the Easter party rite? Do they know how to run the state?

The politician who hopes to make gains by appealing to the 18-20 group may fool himself. The average 18-year-old is still apt to vote as his family votes. The 20-year-old will go according to the prevailing view of his classmates. The in-betweeners who are still 19 will waver between influences. The arithmetical upshot of this would leave us just about where we are percentage-wise when votes are counted, though with a slight shift toward liberalism because of the preponderance of persuasive liberals on college faculties. But Congressman Celler's point is still well-taken: the voter needs the habit of critical appraisal, which cannot be fully cultivated until one has escaped from the sheltered life.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By Sophie Miller

In conversation about the coming new Rondout Creek Bridge, one talks about the Kingston-Rhinebeck Bridge. It was brought out that the Kingston-Rhinebeck Bridge, does not even touch Kingston, but is in the Town of Ulster, and what place it touches on the other side of the Hudson, may also not be Rhinebeck. It is indeed sad, that the bridge was not placed in a convenient place so that Kingstonians could enjoy the fine trains on the other side of the Hudson as they did when the Big Ferry was running from Ferry Street in Rondout to Rhinecliff. With all the money that is going elsewhere and to foreign countries, I wish they had continued to give us ferry service across our two mile wide Hudson, even if, only for the ride. Thus we also had direct communication with the other side, and they with us, in a business and social contact. That is all gone today, what errors are made in the name of progress.

From time to time questions come up on how various parks were acquired. According to historian Judge Clearwater, he wrote in 1929, "Considering our population we have an unusual number of fine parks. He mentions the handsome Cornell Park which for many years was the gardens of Thomas Cornell. At his death it went to his daughter Mary Augusta, the wife of Samuel D. Cuykendall and upon her death, her surviving children, Thomas C. Frederick, Edward, Frank and Katherine presented it to the city.

"It is located in the heart of a business portion of the town, and admirably arranged in a manner to give the impression of spaciousness," he wrote. "The usage of parks has so changed since we had Kingston Point Park, as times have changed."

Judge Clearwater wrote about Kingston Point Park in 1929, that it was the eastern terminus of our street railway system, delightfully situated on the Hudson River, and affording a most charming place of recreation. It offered precisely the same pleasures, particularly boating, either in the inland waters or the broad open water of the Hudson River. "To the wisdom and liberality of Samuel D. Cuykendall the City is indebted for this spot." Owning the Kingston City Railroad, Mr. Cuykendall realized the importance of a beautiful terminal, and spared neither time nor money in the making of it. The owners of the Hudson River Day Line at once realized its importance as a desirable excursion destination place and arranged that their great steamers should stop there, wrote Mr. Clearwater.

Judge Clearwater further wrote in 1929 that there are a number of children's playgrounds apportioned to different parts of the city. All are provided with the appliances so dear to the hearts of children, and all daily are thronged with youngsters who thoroughly enjoy the privileges they are afforded. All of these parks carefully are supervised and the youngest and smallest is accorded precisely the same rights as the oldest and strongest, wrote the judge in 1929.

I remember McVey's Field, later called Hasbrouck Park, and now the home of a public school. We had swings and merry-go-rounds and supervised recreation.

Plans Drive for New Members

The Town of Ulster Library Association membership drive began last Friday, and will continue through to Sunday, May 7. This annual membership drive invites residents of the Town of Ulster to actively participate in the affairs of the town's library. A member of the Library Association actively supports the operation of the library. The association, by its vote, identifies and sustains the Board of Trustees.

The membership committee urges Ulster residents to become active members of the Town of Ulster Library, and urges all residents to take advantage of the library's facilities and its expanding collection of books. This is the newest library in Ulster County in 40 years.

The following are area captains for the drive: Edward Langdon, Ruby, Halycon Park; Sawkill and Ruby Road; Mrs. Frank McMahon, Cherry Hill; Mrs. Ira Shaw, Hillside Acres; Flower Hill, Millers Lane Extension; Mrs. Robert Bondar, Richmond Park; Mrs. Rudy Kraus, Lincoln Park; Mrs. Rudy Kraus, Sunset Park; Mrs. Stanley VanKleeck, Orlando and Esopus Avenues; Mrs. Richard Nance, Forest Glen Park; Whittier; Mrs. William Koznowski, Old Flatbush Road; Mrs. Joseph Benjamin and Mrs. Arthur Schiff, Lake Katrine; Mrs. Jay Henlon, Glenier Lake Park; Mrs. said.

Cites Airport Need in Gotham

NEW YORK (AP)—Oscar Bakke, eastern regional director of the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA), says that even if a fourth metropolitan area jetport were developed at Calverton on Long Island, "a fifth such airport would be needed by 1975."

Bakke, who was interviewed on the "WINS News Conference" radio program Sunday night, said the growth of aviation in the area will cause the three present jetports—Kennedy and La Guardia here and Newark in New Jersey—to be used to their maximum capacity in 1971.

He said Kennedy Airport "will face complete saturation before the end of 1968." Improvements at La Guardia and Newark Airports will "defer the day of complete saturation till perhaps 1971," he added.

Bakke said the FAA is "favorably inclined" toward a jetport at Calverton—where there is an airport leased from the Navy by the Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp.—although a site in Northwest New Jersey would be preferable.

Despite the heavy plane activity in the metropolitan area, no real safety problem exists, he said.

Cited on Morals Count

State troopers at Hyde Park Saturday reported the arrest of two employees at an unidentified private school in Rhinebeck on morals charges involving male students at the school. Charged were William Chavis, 41, of 49 South Pine Street, Kingston, a guidance counselor at the school, and Roland A. Hollins, 40, who lived at the school and was identified as a house father. Troopers reported they had been arraigned Friday before Justice of the Peace Clarence Traver and released on $2,500 bail. Examination at a pre-trial hearing has been set for May 2.

See Bigger Increase In Vietnam Fighting

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—In this peculiar war, dragging along as if time didn't count and the two sides couldn't hear each other, the fighting gets tougher a little bit now, a little bit then, until it is a terrible war.

Getting tougher bit by bit is called escalation, a high-sounding phrase for stepping it up, and both sides, the United States and North Vietnam, have stepped it up.

It's like the heavyweight title bout between John L. Sullivan and Jake Kilrain 78 years ago in Mississippi, the last bare-knuckle match of its kind under the old London Prize Ring rules which put no time limit on a fight.

It didn't make any difference how many times a fighter was knocked down. He lost when he was too beaten to punch any more or get up any more. It took Sullivan 75 rounds to get Kilrain into that condition.

Groundwork Laid
Once more the United States looks ready to escalate again, although nobody is saying so exactly. But the groundwork for it has been laid over weeks and months.

Last week Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of the U.S. forces in Vietnam, talked twice in this country, and Henry Cabot Lodge, the just-retired U.S. Ambassador to Vietnam, gave an interview.

What they did was let the American people know, by saying the end was not in sight, that victory won't come soon or easy. Or, to put it in the words

Upstate Artist Winner of USSR Prize for Peace

AUSABLE FORKS, N.Y. (AP)—Artist Rockwell Kent, who lives in this tiny Adirondack community, was enroute today to the Soviet Union, presumably to pick up his Lenin Peace Prize.

Soviet officials in Moscow named Kent Sunday to receive the prize, which carries an award of $27,775.

Kent and his wife, Kathleen, left Ausable Forks over the weekend, a friend said, to drive to Montreal to board the Soviet ship, "Alexander Pushkin."

Mrs. John D. Mackinnon, who accompanied the Kents to Montreal, said Sunday she had not known Kent was to receive the prize.

"I'm very surprised," she said. "I had no idea."

Ulysses Emerson, who lives at Kent's Asgard Farm, told The Associated Press the artist would not return to the United States until August.

Kent visited Russia in 1958 after a battle with the State Department that ended only when the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that the department had erred in refusing him a passport.

Kent had belonged to several groups listed as communist-front organizations but said he never had been a communist.

Luckily, Pilot On 'Manhattan' Was Never Sold

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP)—NBC skipped a rerun of "Hey Landlord" Sunday night in favor of a half-hour show called "We'll Take Manhattan." It was close to a disaster as a comedy, but it held a certain fascination for a student of television.

It was a comedy of a type the industry calls a pilot. This is a single show made primarily for network executives and sponsors to decide its possibilities as a series.

Like Aborigines

Because pilots cost so much to make $150,000 is not out of the ordinary—they are a big loss when they fail to sell.

Each summer CBS gathers a few to run when "The Lucy Show" takes a vacation and some—but by no means all—of the loss is recovered. Usually, they are pretty sad efforts. Monday night's seemed to be spectacularly bad.

The premise was to have some Womine Indians claim Manhattan and pitch their teepee on Park Avenue. They acted like aborigines. If that pilot had sold, it just might have started the modern Indians on the warpath, and this time with good reason.

Television networks when dealing with delicate, adult subjects usually schedule them in the late evening, presumably

Steals Police Car

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police stopped a man driving a patrol car from the police parking lot after, officers said, he "hot wired" the car when officers refused to drive him home. On the bumper of the unlocked police car was a sticker that read: "Prevent theft—lock your car."

after young children are in bed. NBC's "Today Show" in a rare special program in early evening time Sunday presented a full and extraordinarily frank report on "the pill," taking in detail the whole subject of oral contraceptives.

The approach was clinical, it brought in experts to discuss the moral, religious, medical, physical and psychological aspects of the subject and it was extremely well organized and enlightening.

The same network's Sunday afternoon "Experiment in Television" series came to a close with an hour devoted to showing films made by young students of motion picture techniques.

Two of the most interesting were "The Boxer," by two British students and a cartoon by a New York University man.

Returning Next Season
The English film used familiar television documentary technique. It showed a professional fighter preparing for the ring and in it we heard his views, recorded previously, describing his motives and emotions. The cartoon, by Paul Glickman,

Science Shrinks Piles Without Surgery

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

...Except In Unusually Severe Or Persistent Cases.

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases—to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain without surgery except in unusually severe or persistent cases.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. The secret is Preparation H®—the only formula containing Bio-Dyne®. Preparation H also helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Paltz Group's Quick Action Freed Students

Four faculty members from the State University College at New Paltz have claimed that it was not Assistant professor Lynn Madlener's intent, as indicated in the April 27 issue of The Freeman, to say that either public information officer Donald Kent or President Dr. James J. Frost was "lying" when it was claimed that the president "did not intend that they (the student demonstrators) be kept in jail for lack of ready cash."

The faculty members have stated that they are not questioning the "sincerity of President Frost's concern or efforts on behalf of the arrested students." What they wish to stress, rather, is that, "the administration, in the person of Dean of Students LeRoy S. Austin, at no time produced any cash, after requests and suggestions from us that he make some arrangements to do so."

The members, present at the arraignment of the demonstrators in the Town Hall in New Paltz, are Philip Pearl, Roger Knapp, Richard Panman and Prof. Madlener.

Actions Speak Louder

The four men went on to say that, "whatever the intent of the administration, at the time of the arrest we were concerned not to have students go to jail at all, particularly the 10 girls, and the fact remains that it was our efforts, together with those of interested students, which insured that 25 out of 29 demonstrators did not indeed end up in the Kingston jail. The College evidently made no contingency provisions for bail to be used at the time of arraignment, since no cash in any amount was contributed from any administration source."

It was pointed out that after four students did, in fact, go to the Kingston jail, Dean Austin indicated that the president and others of the administration were making arrangements for the remaining $400. It appears that the dean was then informed that, "he would be contacted if it was necessary to use the funds, which it was not since friends of the students had indicated the money was already being collected and would go to Kingston."

World News In Brief

Cleric Hits Viet War

DACHAU, West Germany (AP) — Former inmates of the Dachau concentration camp Sunday heard one of their own, Pastor Martin Niemoller, compare events in Vietnam to those in Nazi Germany.

Dr. Niemoller spoke at the dedication at the camp site of an underground Church of the Atonement by the Evangelical-Protestant Church. Only the church's roof rises above ground.

"Today there are no bounds at all to inhumanity," said the 75-year-old church leader who was imprisoned at Dachau for his opposition to Hitler's regime. "Where is the atonement? Nothing at all has altered."

Turks Quit Party

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — After a left-of-center group took firm control of Turkey's main opposition party, the Republican People's party, 48 of the party's senators and members of Parliament quit in protest Sunday.

The resigning members included 13 former cabinet ministers. They claimed the party was being led to socialism and possibly communism.

The party was left with 102 members in the 450-member Parliament and 32 senators in the 183-man Senate. The ruling conservative Justice party has 242 deputies and 95 senators.

A group led by former Labor Minister Bulent Ecevit, who was educated at Harvard, won control of the party last year. At a special party congress which ended Saturday, they out-tricked regulations giving them strict control over all party members, including senators and members of Parliament.

Ecevit and party chairman Mehmet Inonu contend their "left-of-center ideas are the strongest possible barrier to communism." They avoided the word socialism.

Probe Burglaries

Local police today continued probe of two house burglaries reported Saturday night.

A fur piece valued at $1,200 plus 26 one dollar bills and $40 in change were reported taken from the home of Sidney G. Wolff, of 84 Mountain View Avenue. Entrance was gained by the forcing of a kitchen door.

Also reported entered was the home of Fred Schramme, of 73 Westbrock Place. Lt. Lemuel F. Howard, head of the local detective division, said nothing of value was reported taken from there, to date, but areas of the house had been ransacked. Entrance there was also gained by the forcing of a kitchen door.

Shot While Raking

A young Greene County man who was raking leaves on premises near the Hudson River in Coxsackie was struck by a stray bullet Sunday. Paul R. Spence, 18, was treated at Greene County Memorial Hospital for a bullet wound in the thigh. State police from the Leeds station investigated. The area is surrounded by woods and brush and it is believed the bullet came from the gun of someone target shooting. Investigator Michael Matterra and Trooper Robert Staible conducted the investigation.

Near Normal Readings Due

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Extended forecast for the next five days, Tuesday through Saturday, for All of Upstate New York:

Temperatures Tuesday through Saturday will average near normal in southeastern counties to a little below normal in northern and western sections. Daytime highs will average in the upper 50s and 60s and nighttime lows in the 30s and 40s in the southeast. Only minor day to day temperature changes are expected.

Precipitation will total one half inch or more with a few showers Tuesday and rain or showers toward the end of the period.

Held in Triple Slaying

GILMER, Tex. (AP) — Authorities quoted Jerry Hadaway, a 6-foot-2 teen-ager, Sunday as saying he killed his parents and grandfather with a shotgun after a family row.

The three were shot Thursday night at their East Texas farm home seven miles southwest of Gilmer near the Pritchett community.

Relatives went there Saturday, learned the three were missing and began a search. Tractor marks led to a newly dug spot in a pasture not far from the white frame house.

Under six inches of earth they found the bodies of Dale Hadaway, 44; his wife Dorothy, 33; and the slain man's father, Earnest J. Hadaway, 71.

Dist. Atty. Lowell Holt charged young Hadaway with murder. He was ordered held without bond.

Since Hadaway won't be 17 until August it will be up to Dist. Judge L.E. Lindsey to decide whether the youth shall be tried before his next birthday as a juvenile or afterward as an adult.

Sheriff Doyle Johnson said the teen-ager related these details: Jerry got into an argument with his mother and his father shouted: "I'm gonna stomp you!" The son seized a shotgun and shot them.

Awakened by the gunfire, his grandfather walked from a bedroom and also was shot.

After young Hadaway buried the victims, he spent a night in a neighboring community at the home of a sister, Virginia Gunn. Officers questioned him after the discovery of the bodies.

Wave Kills Couple

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) — A sailor and his wife were washed into the Pacific Ocean by a giant wave and drowned.

The couple, James Smith, 22, and his wife Diane, 19, were strolling hand in hand Sunday near Point Fermin when the water hit. With them were another sailor and his wife, Larry Allen, 20, and Patsy, 19.

Mrs. Allen clung to a rock. Her husband and Smith swam to safety, but Smith dived back into the ocean for his wife.

Observe World Red Cross Day Monday, May 8

Red Cross workers in the United States join this week and next with their counterparts in 107 other countries in tribute to the memory of a great 19th century humanitarian. He is Henri Dunant (1828-1910), Swiss-born philanthropist, who founded the international organization of mercy in Geneva, Switzerland, in 1863.

Monday, May 8, is World Red Cross Day, the 139th anniversary of Henri Dunant's birth. The theme for 1967 is "Protect Health-Prevent Accidents-Save Life-through your Red Cross/Red Crescent/Red Lion and Sun." (In certain countries, the Red Cross is identified by the symbol of a red crescent or a combined figure of a red lion and sun.) This is the 20th consecutive year that World Red Cross Day has been celebrated.

Truman Solover, area manager of the Red Cross Eastern Area, of which New York State is a part, said in Eastern Area Headquarters, Alexandria, that the organization is engaged in a recruitment campaign all over the world, based on the reasoning: "By joining the Red Cross and acquiring the necessary skills, you will help to improve health, prevent accidents, and save lives around you."

"The prime motive that inspired Henri Dunant's founding of the Red Cross—a desire to serve the suffering—today is being honored by the actions as well as words. Red Cross teams of many countries are carrying out these special situations of need:

They are operating a 10,000 capacity Refugee Relief Center in Vietnam, giving comfort and hope to civilians suffering from the ravages of war (as Dunant himself gave comfort and hope to soldiers following the bloody Battle of Solferino in 1859).

They were coordinating relief effort and distributing emergency supplies in Varto, Turkey, after a severe earthquake killed 2,500 persons and left 100,000 homeless.

They used mobile canteens to feed 2000 victims and relief workers daily, following a tornado in Belmont, Iowa.

They were engaged in Project REACH, whereby teams of Red Cross Youth entered selected urban and rural areas to teach home nursing, first aid, and care of the sick and injured courses to children and adults.

They are feeding the famine-stricken in sundry parts of the globe.

Henri Dunant's experiences nursing the wounded at Solferino in the Franco-Austrian War of 1859 prompted him in February 1863 to bring together a small committee of influential men, to formulate plans for an international organization to aid the suffering. Eight months later, delegates of 16 countries came to Geneva. They approved the committee's plans, adopted an emblem—and the Red Cross was born.

In 1901, nine years before his death, Dunant and the French economist, Frederick Passy, jointly received the first Nobel Peace Prize. Three other Nobel Prizes have been awarded to the Red Cross since then, the latest in 1963.

In 1964 an award winning biography of the Red Cross founder, Henry Dunant: Prophet of Peace, by Violet K. Libby, was published by Pageant Press. Another book, An Encounter with Henry Dunant, by George Geneva, published in 1963 by George & Cie, Geneva, was presented by the Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross to the Kingston Library.

Barn Is Destroyed In Rhinebeck Fire

A large frame barn and extensive woodlands were burned Saturday afternoon despite efforts of 50 firemen from Rhinebeck and Hillside Fire companies.

Fire Chief John McGuire of Hillside and the barn was beyond saving when firemen arrived. He described the building as 30 by 80 feet and said it was located adjacent to the Rhinebeck Country School property in a secluded area.

Tankers shuttled water between the fire scene and a nearby creek. More than three acres of woodland were burned and the barn was destroyed. Firemen battled the flames for three hours.

The fire was visible for miles when the alarm was recorded at about 4 p. m. The property where the fire occurred is located on Fox Hollow Road, Town of Rhinebeck.

The origin of the fire was not determined.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Julie Rodgers is learning computer programming for the day when she retires as an exotic dancer.

Miss Rodgers, 32, has been an entertainer for 10 years. Now appearing at the Broadway Inn, she is taking the second half of a year-long class in computers at a school across the way.

Miss Rodgers, whose measurements are 38-25-35, says she majored in astronomy at the University of Minnesota for a year when she was younger.

A letter from her mother a few months ago convinced her she should try a computer school, she said.

"I was afraid my brain had sort of been embalmed after 10 years in show business. But I discovered I was thinking just as fast as ever," she added.

ALBERT P. MILLER
Area Pharmacist Dies at Age 48

Saugerties pharmacist, Albert Porter Miller, 48, of 14 Meadow Court, died at his home Saturday after a long illness.

Born in Newburgh, June 15, 1918, the son of George and Jane Miller, he was graduated from Cornwall High School. During World War II he served four and a half years in the U. S. Army, 503 Engineers in England, France, Belgium and Germany.

He received his bachelor of science degree from Union College of Pharmacy in 1949 and for several years worked in pharmacies in the Hudson Valley.

Mr. Miller owned and operated a pharmacy at Stamford, New York from 1954 to 1958. While there he was active in Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club, which he served as president.

Here Since 1960

In November, 1960, he opened the Saugerties Pharmacy at Simmons Plaza. Mr. Miller has always been active in the support of local high school athletic teams, has promoted Little League and has sponsored soft ball and bowling teams.

A communicant of Trinity Episcopal Church, Mr. Miller was a member of the Pharmaceutical Society of New York State, the Ulster County Pharmaceutical Society, the Saugerties Power Boat Association and a patron of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society.

He is survived by his wife, Marion Howard Miller, formerly of Westport and Wappingers Falls, and two sons, Jeffrey and Craig, students at Saugerties Central School.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday 11 a. m. at Trinity Episcopal Church, Barclay Heights. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery, Newburgh. Friends may call today 7 to 9 p. m. at the Hartley and Lamoree Inc. Funeral Home, Main and Second Streets, Saugerties.

Grave Desecrated

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP) — A grave was desecrated over the weekend in the Shaarai Shamaym Cemetery in this city, police report.

It was the second time in as many weeks that a grave has been opened in this Upstate New York area.

The opened grave was discovered Sunday by Louis Lurie of Schenectady, who reported it to police.

Three shovels were found near the grave of Emmanuel Cornrich and an attempt had been made to open his casket, police said. Cornrich, who was vice president of Cornrich Recreations, died in February 1966.

On April 22, the grave of a 17-year-old girl was opened in a cemetery in Granville, north of here. Her body was removed.

Conservation Promising Field For the Young

People now are more conservation minded than ever before in the country's history, according to Albert M. Day, internationally known conservationist who spoke Friday night at Ulster County Community College.

"Now we're in the most thrilling, most promising era in conservation history," Day declared.

Day said conservation now is one of the most promising fields for young people to enter. He explained that private industry now is constantly searching for trained people with a conservation background.

The speaker said new businesses today want clean water and air and good recreation facilities in the areas where they are going to locate, and added these factors could bring vast changes in the pattern of business location.

Says JFK Spark

The late President Kennedy sparked the present great surge of conservation interest, according to Day. He explained President Johnson has carried forward these ideas with "great skill and seal." He also said the wives of the two presidents had done much to encourage natural beauty throughout the nation.

Day said public lands now are being made "more and more available" to people who want to visit them for vacations. More and more work, he added, is being done every year to develop camp grounds on these public lands.

Because federal lands can't meet all the needs in this area, Day said efforts presently are under way to try to encourage private landowners to open up their property for this purpose.

Day said there is considerable ble support today to curb water pollution, noting its great contrast to the 1920's when little support was forthcoming for efforts by the Isaac Walton League to clean up streams in the nation.

Notes Pollution Concern

Noting that deaths from smog are on the increase, Day said there also is a growing concern today with air pollution.

"There used to be the saying that if a fish died in water you didn't want to drink it," he said. "Now we're saying that if a pigeon can't live in the air, we shouldn't breathe it."

Day, a former director of the

N.Y.C. to Hire Housewives as Bingo Spies

NEW YORK (AP) — Bingo cheaters beware! The city is set to hire housewives as spies and, if they spot skullduggery, your number will be up.

License Commissioner Joel J. Tyler, announcing the plan Sunday, said the women would be undercover agents.

"I'm going to send teams to particular games in each of the boroughs," he said. "It isn't that we suspect any widespread cheating, but some bingo fans become real experts in playing this game. So expert that they win all the time, and they win because they've learned how to cheat."

As for the female spy squad, Tyler commented, "I'm not going to say publicly how many we're going to hire."

The commissioner said the city realized $800,000 in fees from bingo games last year and quoted a report saying New York State bingo buffs spent $30.8 million in 1964.

He was in charge of Associate Professor Richard B. Glazer, coordinator of Biology and Medical Laboratory Technology at the college.

Common Market Could Get New Entry: Britain

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Cabinet agreed Sunday that Britain should try again to join the European Common Market, but it set conditions apparently to assure protection of its trading interests.

The conditions were kept secret. They were part of a compromise agreement reached at an eight-hour meeting at Chetters, the prime minister's official country home.

Wilson sought a free hand to negotiate Britain's entry into the six-nation customs union. But seven or eight of the 21 Cabinet ministers are known to oppose British entry. They stressed the economic risks and tried to attach conditions that might cripple British negotiators at Common Market headquarters in Brussels.

Officials said the compromise forestalled, at least for now, any resignations by these ministers.

Britain tried to join the Common Market in 1963, but its application was vetoed by French President Charles de Gaulle.

Among major problems worriving the Cabinet critics are the Common Market's agricultural system and its higher food prices; the future of New Zealand dairy produce and West Indian sugar, which long have been dependent on sales to Britain; the future of the British pound; the length of the transition period to cushion the change in industry and the British welfare state apparatus, and the free movement of workers.

The agreement is to be ratified at a formal Cabinet meeting Tuesday and announced to Parliament and the nation shortly after.

Posters Tell Of Facilities For Residents

In observance of Mental Health Month during May, the Ulster County Association for Mental Health has had 50 posters made highlighting the most mental health treatment facilities for Ulster County.

They are:
Ulster County Mental Health Center, 400 Broadway, Kingston. Out-patient treatment consultation. Day Hospital (appropriation approved; in process of organization).

Middletown State Hospital, Middletown. Services Ulster County.

Middletown Clinic House, 103 Franklin Street, Kingston. After-care treatment.

Middletown Halfway House, 99 Clinton Avenue, Kingston. Transitional rehabilitation residence.

Gateway Industries, Inc., Field Court, Kingston. (A Community Chest Agency) Vocational evaluation, sheltered workshop.

Children's Home of Kingston, Inc., East Chester Street, Kingston. Therapeutic residential center for boys.

The posters are being placed throughout Ulster County.

The Ulster County Association for Mental Health is a Community Chest agency, and it is entirely supported by voluntary contributions. It is affiliated with the New York Association for Mental Health, and the National Association for Mental Health. The office is located at 27 East O'Reilly Street.

Its purpose is to promote good mental health and community understanding of mental illness and an awareness of the need for good local treatment facilities. It also provides an information and referral service, and volunteer services to assist patients and their relatives.

Mrs. Harry Gold said in order to further the understanding of mental health treatment services in Ulster County, the Ulster County Association for Mental Health has arranged for the six facilities named to each submit to the Kingston Daily Freeman a short news article describing their functions.

Nine Stations Listed in Area For Viet Gifts

Edward Engelhardt, general chairman of the Ulster County Vietnam Servicemen's Committee, organized by Ulster Hose Co. 5 to obtain gifts for county servicemen, announced today that nine collection stations have been set up in various communities.

Engelhardt said Fred Faerber, president of Smith Avenue Storage Warehouse, has volunteered to pack all individual packages prepared for county servicemen in Vietnam in large crates and transport them free of charge to the West Coast for shipment to Vietnam.

The local committee will pay only for the local postage fees in the San Francisco area, Engelhardt noted. He reported that to date gifts have been received from area residents, business establishments, industries and organizations equivalent of 20 packages, and a little more than $200 in cash has been received.

Many area residents have volunteered to assist in preparing the packages.

Collection stations have been set up at Ulster Hose Co. firehouse, the uptown office of The Kingston Daily Freeman, 239 Fair Street; Ulster County Community College, WKNY on Broadway; Boy Myers Market on Route 9W, High Falls; Constabulary, South Road, High Falls; Veterans of Foreign Wars 1386 Delaware Avenue; Town of Ulster Post Office; Station HWFM on Lawrenceville Road.

According to Engelhardt, a group of young girls canvassed homes on a Town of Ulster street last Friday and collected $13.01 in cash which was turned over to the committee.

Engelhardt said that the committee would like to borrow a five pound scale for weighing the packages that will be limited to that weight for each county serviceman. The committee also would like to borrow a wet tape dispensing machine for the taping of the packages.

Chief Albright of the Stone Ridge Fire Company has informed the committee that the fire unit, which meets Tuesday night, has collected $65 for the Vietnam movement.

Among gifts sought by the committee are pocket games, a three-inch tape for recording, small plastic bags, shoe polish, tooth paste, shampoo, soap, shaving cream, writing paper, candy, gum, newspaper subscriptions, package dry soup, Kool-aid, pens and pencils, postcards, playing cards, dry cereal, small paperback books, canned nuts.

Ike Supports War; Lauds Westmoreland

PALM DESERT, Calif. (AP) — "America doesn't have to apologize for her part in the war — she can be proud of it," said former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"I hope America will wake up to the fact that our soldiers are dying for something we believe in," he said.

Then he and his wife Mamie prepared to leave San Bernardino, Calif., by train late today for their home in Gettysburg, Pa.

Since January the Eisenhowers have vacationed at their winter home in Palm Desert. They started the annual visits in 1954.

Eisenhower's comments about the Vietnam war came after a three-hour visit Saturday with Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, who was en route back to the fighting.

Eisenhower called Westmoreland's task "the toughest soldier's job yet."

"And he has conducted it admirably," Eisenhower added.

Don't be a rat fink! Think! He could be right under the sink! NEW RAT NIP! QUICK KILLS—NO ODOR—NO DANGER

In Poughkeepsie Youth Facing Murder Trial Slashes Wrists

Facing trial today in Dutchess County Court on a charge of first degree murder, Albert F. Widziewicz Jr., 20, slashed his wrists in the county jail at Poughkeepsie, and was taken to Vassar Hospital where several sutures were taken to close the wounds.

Sheriff Lawrence M. Quinlan said the incident occurred on Thursday, although no report was made public until Sunday, after the sheriff had conferred with the youth's parents, who said Widziewicz had previously cut his wrists.

According to the sheriff, the accused slayer of Mrs. Sandra Boyser, in her apartment, in Washington Street, Poughkeepsie, last August apparently obtained the razor blade from another prisoner. Quinlan said Widziewicz had been watched "very closely" by guards, and added the inmate could not possibly have obtained the razor blade from a visitor because prisoners are kept separated from visitors.

District Attorney John R. Heilman Jr., noted that despite the wrist-slashing incident, injuries suffered by the defendant would not delay the trial scheduled for today.

Demonstrator Leaves Jail; Heads for Food

Frank Miata, 23 year old New Paltz College student who along with 28 others was arrested last Tuesday during a demonstration at the State University College in New Paltz, again changed his mind and on Saturday evening decided to accept bail and be released from the county jail.

Miata was being held on a disorderly conduct charge arising out of a demonstration at the State University College in New Paltz in protest to the appearance of Navy and Marine Corps recruiters at the college.

Following the arrests by Sheriff's deputies Tuesday afternoon, bail was posted in the sum of $100 for each of the demonstrators who were arrested. Miata later sought rescinding of the bail and surrendered himself Thursday afternoon to Sheriff William B. Martin and was lodged in jail. He announced he would go on hunger strike until the college authorities barred recruiting officers at the college.

However Saturday he changed his mind again, sought reinstatement of the bail and was released on bail for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Rexford Schneider of New Paltz on Tuesday. When last seen by jail officials he was headed for a diner.

RV Voting On Tuesday

Election of three trustees to serve three-year terms and approval of the 1967-68 school budget are on the agenda of the annual Roundout Valley Central School district meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

Terms of successful candidates will run from July 1, 1967 to June 30, 1970.

Only one contest is noted in the annual school board election.

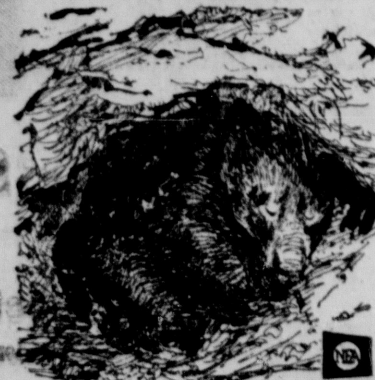

Running unopposed to succeed themselves are George M. Stockin of Kerhonkson and Clarence Coogan of Binnewater.

Three candidates—Mrs. Eleanor Black of Kerhonkson, Daniel Slobodian, also of Kerhonkson and Jack Van Newkirk of Lucas Turnpike—seek the post now held by Donald DuBois of Kerhonkson who is running for another term.

Reports Car Stolen

New Paltz police were notified by Franceska Weishaupt of Libertyville that a Chevrolet sedan had been stolen some time between 1 p. m. on Sunday and 3 a. m. today. An alarm was sent out to police in the area.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Hibernation is more than just a deep, long sleep. Although scientists know relatively little about the phenomenon, they have observed that hibernating animals' body temperatures may drop to near freezing and heart beats are much slower, says The World Almanac. A hamster, while in a state of hibernation, may exist half-frozen, with about 50 per cent of the water in its brain turned to ice. The heart beat of a ground squirrel may slow to three times a minute compared with a normal rate of 360.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise:

You absolutely won't believe it until you try it, but this is the most fabulous thing that has ever happened to my budget... and my hair!

My beauty operator knew I couldn't possibly afford professional treatment for my dry, dull, lifeless and bleached hair. So she suggested that I buy a pint of real mayonnaise to use on my hair at home.

She told me to take a handful of it and rub into my scalp, then comb it through my hair and leave it at least 30 minutes before every home shampoo. (Wrap an old towel around your head because eventually the mayonnaise begins to run or drip!)

It's amazing! Life began to come back into my dry, brittle hair, after only a few treatments.

Try it, Heloise, maybe others who can't afford expensive treatments can save this way, too.

And thank you with all my heart for all the wonderful hints that help our lives and budgets go further and further.

Margie

Well, now, don't laugh at this idea because by golly, it actually works.

At first, I couldn't believe it, but then I got to thinking:

There are hot oil shampoos, plain oil shampoos and egg shampoos. And both eggs and oil are in mayonnaise!

So, I called some cosmetologists.

They all agreed that it works. When they find a person who needs hair conditioners, they recommend this treatment when the customer can't afford other treatments!

They also said that it couldn't hurt any head of hair that they knew of unless someone was ALLERGIC to mayonnaise or its condiments. (You can test

Buffalo Faces Firemen Strike

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Buffalo's 480,000 residents faced the possibility today of crippled fire and first aid services within 16 days after the city's firemen decided on a sick-call campaign to press their demands for a pay increase.

At a meeting Sunday night the firemen shouted unchallenged approval of a plan to call in sick by May 16 if the city does not grant them $2,000 increases in their $6,500-a-year salaries.

Could Start May 16
The 1,250 firemen are represented by Local 282, International Association of Firefighters, AFL-CIO, whose president Frederick C. Carner, said the plan could go into effect any time before May 16 if it were deemed necessary.

The firemen began bringing direct pressure against the city administration April 15 by beginning a work slowdown.

They have answered all fire and rescue alarms but have refused to perform routine house-keeping chores in the 32 fire houses. Trucks and other equipment have gone unwashed and in-service instruction classes have been canceled.

Carner said the plans now call for daily picketing of City Hall starting Tuesday after a mass demonstration today.

He said details of the work stoppage had not been worked out but said as many as 150 men could call in sick on one shift.

Saturday, Mayor Frank A. Sedita offered firemen a $468 raise and Buffalo's 1,500 policemen, who earn the same salary, a $750 pay boost as part of a proposed $118.8-million city budget for the 1967-68 fiscal year.

Carner stormed from the mayor's office after Sedita made the proposal to leaders of city employ groups.

Sedita had told them the city could not afford higher pay increases and that the policemen were chosen to receive the most because crime was the city's greatest problem.

Mayor Blasts Plan

The Democratic mayor labeled the firemen's plan to feign illness "foolhardy and irresponsible" and it would not result in any pay increases. The firemen would be responsible for any emergency that arose because of the work stoppage, he said.

A city spokesman said any firefighter who reports himself ill must be seen by the department surgeon in order to have the illness verified.

Sedita has said that Buffalo's current financial troubles are due to the State Legislature's failure to appropriate requested aid and a voter turnout earlier this year of a proposed one per cent city sales tax.

this by rubbing some on the inside of the arm along the elbow, and leaving it for an hour.)

Since my hair is not dyed, bleached, or dry, and hadn't been teased so that it was broken... I couldn't try it on me. But I told nine girl friends about it and everyone of them thought it was a great idea.

Mainly they liked the idea because it was inexpensive, and mayonnaise was usually in the home and handy. Also it was easy to remove with a shampoo and their hair was really re-conditioned.

Some used three heaping tablespoons (according to the thickness and texture of their hair) and two (who had long, thick, hair) used half a pint!

So, try it if you wish. I don't guarantee anything, but you really have nothing to lose except a few spoons of mayonnaise!

Heloise

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

I keep an "Emergency Kit" of items that annoy me when I unexpectedly run out of them... such as stamps, cigarettes, small change, chewing gum, etc.

It is nice to know that I can reach for any of these items easily, of course, I replenish the kit as soon as possible.

Mary Cohen

Dear Heloise:

If sand seeps through your garden gloves, put a pair of rubber gloves on even if they have small holes in them and then your garden gloves.

You'll be surprised how clean your hands still look after a couple of hours of "dirt" work.

Irene Ronson

Dear Heloise:

I use a three-pound coffee can as hat stands. This way the veils on my hats don't get crushed.

I keep the scarf, gloves and jewelry for each outfit inside the coffee can.

Me

Dear Heloise:

When I got ready to put my screens in the doors last week, I found they were rusty looking, and one had a two-inch tear in it.

So I took a piece of nylon net, folded it three times to cover the tear, and sewed it on around the edges.

Then I painted my screen with aluminum paint and they look like new. The patch (being the same color) does not show very much.

Roads Program For Ulster Tops $505,000

Governor Rockefeller has announced that Hudson Valley region projects estimated at $185 million will be advanced to bidding during the current fiscal year by the New York State Department of Public Works.

Major projects will be carried out during the fiscal year in the seven-county region of Ulster, Columbia, Dutchess, Putnam, Westchester, Rockland and Orange by the Poughkeepsie District of the State Department of Public Works.

Including in the projects will be the rehabilitation of the bridges on Route 212 between Saugerties and Mt. Tremper, a program which will receive an estimated $125,000. Planned also is a new Honks Falls Bridge on Route 55 north of Nanaucho which will cost upwards of $379,000.

Mile-point markers, designed to more precisely identify sections of highway for accident and highway improvement records, will be installed at various highways throughout the district at an estimated cost of $220,000.

The total cost of projects in Ulster County will be in excess of $505,000.

Woodstock Boys

nita Woolsey with her husband, Albert, were in the back of their home at Port Ewen preparing a grill fire for a barbecue, according to Highland State Trooper Robert Whalen.

As the fire was lit, flames flashed upward and set fire to the clothing worn by Mrs. Woolsey. The fire was extinguished and Mrs. Woolsey was rushed to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's Ambulance. She suffered second degree burns of the arms, face and neck, troopers said.

Trooper Raymond Vosburgh investigated.

Woodstock firefighters were called out at 5 a. m. Sunday to extinguish a chimney fire at the home of William Kleine on Lasher Road in that community.

At 6:30 p. m. Sunday, Woodstock firemen responded to an alarm after fire was reported near Mink Hollow. Fire officials said on arrival with a tank truck firemen found a serious fire burning in grass, brush and lumber across the creek from the H. H. Cramer residence. Firemen reported the house was in danger at times, but volunteers managed to check the spread of the flames.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market dipped in active trading early Monday.

Changes of key issues were mostly fractional.

Brokers said escalation of the Vietnam war may prove a stumbling block for further market advance.

But they noted that home appliance price increases and a rise in U.S. gold stocks were bullish developments.

Ford Motor lost about half a point following its report for a 43 per cent decline in first quarter earnings from a year earlier.

The other motors also were weak with General Motors losing more than a point. American Motors off about half a point and Chrysler down by a lesser fraction.

Boeing rose more than 2 points following President Johnson's authorization of development of the supersonic transport, for which Boeing is the prime contractor.

Open blocks included Libby-Owens-Ford, unchanged at 49 1/2 on 7,800 shares; Sperry Rand, unchanged at 31 1/2 on 6,100 shares and Bethlehem Steel, up 1/4 at 36 1/2 on 2,400 shares.

Friday The Associated Press 60-stock average advanced .8 to 327.3.

Saugerties P-TA Refutes Charges By Independents

Officers for 1967-68 were elected at last week's meeting of the Saugerties Parent-Teacher Association at the Junior-Senior High School. To be installed at next month's meeting are: president, John Warfel; first vice-president, Ernest Blake; second vice-president, Mrs. Warren Schoemer; recording secretary, Mrs. Elsie Keteleer; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lois Neff, treasurer, Robert Emery and historian, Mrs. Jean Emery.

Blake, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, reported that the Scholarship Fund Raising Drive was successful with a total of $630 realized to date.

The P-TA annually awards four scholarships to graduates of Saugerties High School.

Honor Mrs. Snyder

President Norman W. Bolinder, introduced Mrs. Grace Snyder, this year's recipient of an honorary lifetime P-TA membership. Mrs. Snyder, a teacher at the Main Street School, was honored for her many years of valuable guidance and service to the boys and girls in her ungraded classes.

The following is a statement from Bolinder:

"In a recent news release the Independent Taxpayers Committee charged that 'officials' had purposely publicized the incorrect date for last week's meeting." Bolinder said: One of the major objectives of any P-TA unit is to bring into closer relation the home and the school, so that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child. One of the best ways of promoting this objective is to strive for a large attendance at all P-TA meetings. It became necessary to change the announced date of the April meeting. This change was so noted by the local news media. If any member of the Independent Taxpayers Committee had contacted any one of our P-TA officers, the correct time for the meeting would have been listed on a brochure which that committee distributed to a limited number of School District homes. The implication that P-TA officials had purposely publicized the incorrect meeting date to "confuse the populace and to keep people away", is utterly ridiculous!

"The meeting was a P-TA meeting and Dr. Dexter O. Arnold, superintendent of schools, has been asked to speak on an assigned topic, which he did.

Cites "Poor Taste"

"The Independent Taxpayers Committee showed poor taste in trying to use the meeting to promote their slate of candidates."

"If they had questions why did they not hold a meeting and ask the Superintendent to speak on their concern? It is understood that the Independent Taxpayers Committee, which apparently is a secret organization, has never contacted the Superintendent's office regarding school problems. Who are they and why don't they seek information from the proper source before leveling charges?"

"The charges of the so-called 'Taxpayers Committee' that those attending were dissatisfied with Dr. Arnold's answers is quite contrary to the fact as far as the P-TA is concerned. The Superintendent spoke on the subject assigned to him and answered all questions forth-rightly. He offered to answer questions phoned to his office or by appointment, and to meet with individuals following the meeting.

"Dr. Arnold spoke on What The Future Holds for Education in Saugerties: Curriculum, Buildings, Personnel. For the next 30 minutes, the approximately 250 persons present were given a resume of the educational picture in Saugerties prior to centralization; the school building program—past, present, and future; the many innovations presently underway in our schools; and some of the ambitious projects now under consideration by the administrative staff of our schools.

"At the conclusion of his address Dr. Arnold introduced candidates for board of education posts in the upcoming election. Present at the meeting were incumbents Mrs. Ann Karashay, Henry Breitenbach, and Edwin Olsen. Candidates for these posts introduced to the audience included Harry

Charge Dismissed, One Is Sentenced

A grand larceny charge lodged recently against Jeffrey Paul Owin, 16, of 26 Appletree Drive, Saugerties, was dismissed here today because he is to be heard in Poughkeepsie, and one of three defendants booked over the weekend was sentenced.

Owin was apprehended here recently by local police after he had allegedly stolen a car owned by John Swift, of Poughkeepsie, from that city April 20. Owin was arrested here after the car was stopped in Lawton Park by officers Richard Scherer and Anthony Turk.

Richard Boler, 33, of 44 West Union Street, charged Saturday with third degree assault by Joan Boler, pleaded guilty today before City Judge Hubert A. Richter, and was sentenced to 15 days in jail.

Also charged with third degree assault Saturday were James Peebles, 23, of 31 Gill Street. The charge was lodged by John C. Myrick, whose address was not noted, and Terence Fisher, 23, of 83 Franklin Street. The latter was held on a warrant. The name of the complainant was not noted. Peebles and Fisher are due for hearing Wednesday.

Keep Growth Stock Unless Income Needed

Q—"I am 65, retired, and my health is not too good. I depend entirely on my own resources. I have $19,000 in savings; George Putnam Fund; Textron; Public Service Electric & Gas; International Harvester; Corn Products; Jersey Standard; Banff Oil. I bought Banff at $1 a share and Textron at 22. Would you take the big profit on Textron?" M. R.

A—"I'm sorry to learn that your health is poor and that you have no one but yourself to rely on. You have an excellent list of stocks for your circumstances. Textron currently yields 1.8 per cent — reflecting its strong growth position and promising outlook. I would hold this stock for long-term inflation unless you require more income. In that event only, I would switch to Tenneco which offers a five per cent return.

I do question whether someone in your situation should hold Banff. I like this stock as a speculative Canadian land play in the Rainbow Lake area. You have a big profit here with no dividend income. I would switch it into Associated Investment, yielding six per cent and supplying stability rather than the chance of speculative gain.

Q—"I inherited Continental Oil convertible preferred. I need extra income now while my children are completing their education, and would like to increase the value of my estate as well. Should I convert Continental Oil pfd.? R. P.

A—"It's difficult, except through hindsight, to get good income and potential capital enhancement both in the same stock. You could increase your annual return over $100 by switching into Std. Oil of New Jersey, but your growth position would be weakened. Your preferred sells at its exchange value, which becomes lower after Dec. 31, 1968. The yield is about the same as on the common and I advise you to convert, if you can get along on a 3.5 per cent return.

REHEARSE FOR RECITAL — Pianist Isabelle Byman, teacher and lecturer of Woodstock and New York City, and violinist Harold Kohon, of New York University's Quartet in Residence, are shown rehearsing for the series of sonata recitals they recently gave at Southampton College, City College, New York University and Town Hall, all in the metropolitan area. Mme. Byman has been teaching this season at Juilliard School of Music and, this weekend she will travel to Altoona, Pa., to act as a judge for the week-long National Guild of Piano Auditions. She has also recently chaired the contest auditions to the N. Y. State Music Teachers Association in Manhattan this month and was appointed chairman of citations for the Association's convention in Tarrytown next month. (Photo by Helen H. Shotwell)

Woodstock Couple Killed

A Woodstock couple died in a two-car accident Saturday afternoon at the junction at Route 81 and 145 in the Albany County community of Cooksburg. State police at both the Selkirk and Leeds substations investigated.

Okar Fleming, 72, and his wife Bertha, about 70, died when their car and a tractor trailer operated by Francis Sheehan, 37, of Copenhagen, collided at the intersection.

Mr. and Mrs. Fleming resided at 5 Meadow Lane, Woodstock. State police at Leeds reported that the tractor trailer was traveling west on Route 145 and the Fleming car, operated by Mr. Fleming, was traveling north on Route 81. Troopers reported that the Fleming car traveled into the path of the truck.

Coroner D. Dietz of Berne, Albany County, was summoned and conducted an investigation. Troopers from the Selkirk station, together with Zone Sgt. Charles Crommie, Investigator G. B. Shea, and Trooper Grant Davis of the Leeds station, investigated.

The remains of the Woodstock couple were turned over to the Turner Funeral Home, Cairo.

Their deaths were part of a weekend toll of 24 on state highways.

Hits Churches for $207

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — A burglar raided three Crawfordville churches Sunday, stealing $207 from the bill-folds of 10 women choir members.

The burglars entered the churches through the back doors and stole cash and jewelry from the women's purses.

The churches were the Methodist, Baptist and Lutheran churches.

The burglars were not seen and no arrests have been made.

Refugees Bid Public Avoid Cuban Exhibit

CHAMPLAIN, N.Y. (AP) — "Avoid the Cuban exhibit at Expo 67," says 20 Cuban refugees, who picketed at the U. S. Canadian border, on Interstate 87.

State Police and Border Patrol officials reported that the picketers marched peacefully here Sunday, carrying signs that read "Fight Communism and calling upon visitors to the Canadian World's Fair in Montreal to bypass the Cuban center."

Dr. Yolanda Ortal, a Cuban now living in Albany and a spokesman for the demonstrators, said they also were expressing opposition to the "propaganda displayed" at the Cuban pavilion and to the reported "home" visit of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro to Expo.

Police said they believe the disturbance was triggered by the arrest of two youths on disorderly conduct charges. There were no reports of other arrests. Police said the youths ranged in age from 16 into the early 20s.

INVESTOR FORUM

By HARRY C. FRANCE

For more than three decades, growth of national income has been spectacular. Of course, there have been short periods of recession. America is going through one right now. The sagging stock market is clear evidence of this. Expensive money puts dampers on spending. This has greatly influenced conditions in several leading industries.

Prosperity in steel is greatly based on the automobile industry. And when car-buying is postponed for a variety of reasons, the steel industry suffers.

But during periods such as economic America has experienced recently, investors should take courage and remember that two forces reside in this country which will resuscitate faltering conditions.

These forces are: population growth and improving standards of living. National income is in an upward trend.

In 1933 (which was probably the poorest year our country ever had), national income was $40 billion. In 1966, it was over $610 billion — an increase of 1,500 per cent in 33 years, which averages 45 per cent a year.

The acceleration of the growth started in 1941 when national income was $104 billion. Steady growth characterized the economy from 1962 through 1966.

In 1962, national income was $458 billion; in 1963, $482 billion; in 1964, $517 billion; in 1965, $559 billion; and last year $610 billion.

Price declines in the stock market discourage millions of investors. Such a feeling causes armies of investors to sell out. The flood of money in America is silent testimony to underlying pessimism. Commercial bank deposits, savings bank deposits, currency in circulation and savings and loan association capital all total more than $550,000,000,000.

In the meantime, the quality of the dollar is worsening. Today, the federal debt is about $100,000,000,000 greater than it was a year ago. And the prospects for the government's fiscal year from July 1, 1967, to July 1, 1968, are not promising.

But it is my opinion that the positive economic forces in the country greatly outweigh the negative ones.

As this column stated, it is probable that the decision of the powerful Federal Reserve Board to make money cheaper and credit conditions easier will eventually bring strength into a number of industries.

Misleading View

Of Freeman's Bid

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — An official of State Milk Distributors Inc. says the U. S. Agriculture secretary has been "very misleading" in suggesting that dealers absorb a price increase proposed for milk producers.

J. Russell Fox, executive secretary of the organization, said Sunday the distributors endorse the Secretary Orville L. Freeman's proposal for a price increase of one-half cent a quart for dairymen.

But, Fox said, the distributors "can hardly be expected to absorb the actual increase necessary."

In Defense of Dodd

Long Courts Disaster In Blasting Senators

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — The consensus around the Senate is that in opposing the censure of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, Sen. Russell B. Long is following a lonely road with dangerous political crossroads ahead.

No other senator, Democrat or Republican, has stepped up yet to say that Dodd-D-Conn. should not be censured for misconduct as recommended unanimously by a special Ethics Committee of six.

Needs Future Help
In his Spartan stand for his beleaguered colleague, Long, D-La., has slashed out with a broad sword at members whose support he is likely to need in the future in his varied and often complicated exercises as the Senate's assistant Democratic leader and chairman of the Finance Committee.

Cambodian Head Quits
PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Premier Lon Nol has resigned because of ill health and Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the chief of state, has taken over the premiership until he appoints a new man later this week.

Lon Nol said in his letter of resignation that he had not recovered from injuries suffered in an auto accident.

Sihanouk for years has been the principal governing force in Cambodia, and his Cabinets have a secondary role.

Driver Killed
RENSSELAER, N.Y. (AP) — Edward Hoover, 31, of New Lebanon, was killed early today when the automobile he was driving struck a utility pole along the Columbia Turnpike near here, police said.

was made of Dodd was generally regarded as an example of how to make political enemies without even trying.

He left unidentified the half he was indicting and the half he was absolving, thus clouding every individual member except possibly himself. He explained that his daddy, the late Huey Long, had left him enough money so he didn't have to worry about outside financial monkeyshines.

He could afford, he said, to take the Senate in stride as "my favorite charity."

Long said the six special committee members were afraid that if they didn't bring out a censure resolution against Dodd they would be subject to "the same kind of calumny and smear" to which he said columnists had subjected the Connecticut senator.

Members of the committee, headed by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., are regarded around the Senate as men of more than ordinary nature and forbearance. They include also Sens. Wallace Bennett, R-Utah; Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn.; A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla.; John Sherman Cooper, R-Ind.; and James B. Pearson, R-Kan.

Long's thundering charge that the practice of which Dodd is accused—appropriating test—monial dinner and campaign funds to personal use—is "all too prevalent" in the Senate touched a highly sensitive political nerve.

Public Reacts

Members' mail shows that the public is inclined to think the worst of politicians no matter how clean their hands may be. His colleagues therefore are not likely to overflow with goodwill toward the Louisiana senator for volunteering some substance for that viewpoint.

Nobody faults Long for standing up for a friend—it's just the manner in which he has done it so far.

Bell Backs Tax Protection

H. Clark Bell, Constitutional Convention Delegate from the 38th District of Dutchess and Ulster Counties, has introduced a proposition at the Convention providing tax protection for Upstate residents.

Bell's proposal calls for the taxation article of the Constitution to provide that no law shall be passed exempting from local taxation any property acquired by a municipality outside its territorial limits.

In introducing the proposition Bell said: "This is an important provision for the residents of the 38th District and many other residents of the Upstate community. In 1965 New York City attempted to have a law passed exempting its Upstate water supply property from local taxation. The New York City sponsored bill was passed in the democratic controlled Assembly and Senate. Fortunately it was vetoed by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. If the bill had not been vetoed and had become law the results would have been catastrophic for the Upstate community."

"The Town of Olive in Ulster County provides a good example of what would happen. Olive has a total tax base of about six million evaluation. Of this New York City owns about five million. If New York City had been granted tax exemption, the tax rate in Olive would have increased about six hundred and 50 per cent overnight. This means that a man paying $250 school and general tax would have to start paying about $3,300 a year tax or have his home sold out from under him at a foreclosure or tax sale."

"In order to avoid a possibility, I would like to see the new Constitution contain a prohibition against the granting of such exemptions. That is why I have introduced this proposal."

Dr. Rawson to Head Jersey Med School

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — Dr. Rulon W. Rawson, professor of medicine at Cornell University Medical Center and chief of the department of medicine at its Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center—has been named dean of medicine at the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry here.

Dr. Rawson will fill the post this fall and will replace the present acting dean of medicine, Dr. Desmond Bonnycastle, the college announced Saturday.

Dr. Rawson received his doctor's degree from Northwestern University in 1938. He was a research fellow at Harvard Medical School from 1938-1941, and a fellow in thyroid physiology with the American College of Physicians, Harvard Medical School and Massachusetts General Hospital in 1941 and 1942.

He is the founder and director of the Explorer Science Camp in Westchester County, N.Y. The camp is for Boy Scouts from all over the country who have special interests and abilities in science.

Reveal Criticisms Of Apollo in 1965

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William F. Ryan, D-N.Y., made public Saturday the text of a space agency team's 1965 report detailing criticisms in manufacture of the Apollo spacecraft.

Ryan had disclosed at a news conference on Wednesday some of the reports sharper criticisms of workmanship and quality control at North American Aviation, Inc., the firm which made the Apollo unit in which three astronauts died last January.

He acted after the National Aeronautics and Space Administration declined — with backing from the chairman of a House investigating subcommittee — to submit the full report to investigators. A summary was provided instead.

NASA declined comment on the report or on Ryan's action. Ryan said of the report that "not only is it pertinent to the management competence of North American Aviation but also (to) the supervisory competence of NASA, both of which are in question."

Inspected Plant

What he made public was a 20-page "NASA review team report" of a group headed by Maj. Gen. Samuel C. Phillips, which inspected operations at North American's Downey, Calif., plant between Nov. 22 and Dec. 6, 1965.

The 20-page report apparently was incomplete. It mentioned that further findings of some team reports were attached, but a spokesman for Ryan said the congressman did not have those reports. Ryan has declined to say where he obtained the report.

One part of the report says that North American "must take immediate and effective action to improve the quality of workmanship and to tighten their own inspection. Performance goals for demonstrating high quality must be established and trend data must be maintained and given serious attention by management to correct this unsatisfactory condition."

Phillips, NASA's Apollo program director, wrote a covering letter to the president of North American, J. L. Atwood.

Phillips' letter said "the conclusions expressed in our briefing and notes are critical. Even with due consideration of hopeful signs, I could not find a substantive basis for confidence in future performance."

Saw Progress

Phillips testified before a House subcommittee earlier this month that he had rechecked the Downey plant four months after his original report. He found then, he said, that some of the deficiencies had been overcome and the firm was making satisfactory progress toward overcoming the rest.

NASA Administrator James E. Webb told the House group that public release of the Phillips report would damage NASA's relationship with North American.

Chairman Olin E. Teague, D-Tex., said at the time he didn't think the agency should release such "personal notes."

In a statement Saturday Ryan again challenged NASA to make public all of Phillips' findings and said the matter should be thoroughly explored by the congressional investigating committee.

Lawyers Argue Over Coppolino Guilty Decision

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — The prosecution has called Dr. Carl Coppolino's conviction of second-degree murder "a very sensible verdict," but the unsuccessful defense says the verdict is "a flat compromise between guilt and innocence."

Coppolino, sat in the Sarasota County jail today awaiting a battle his attorney, F. Lee Bailey, will wage in the appellate courts.

Bailey has said the verdict would be thrown out on appeal, but the chief prosecutor, State Atty. Frank Schaub, said "there is no merit" in Bailey's remark. "When the defendant didn't take the stand, we realized we wouldn't get the death sentence," Schaub said. "Our appellate courts have upheld many cases of this kind."

"The judge and jury followed the law," Schaub added in an interview.

Coppolino, 34, was convicted Friday of second-degree murder and given life imprisonment in the death of his first wife, Carmela, 32, in August 1965. The prosecution claimed that the anesthesiologist fatally drugged her with succinylcholine, a paralyzing drug once believed undetectable after death.

Gang murder in the United States was common before prohibition, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Opinions of Two Distinguished Americans on Vietnam . . .

WASHINGTON, April 25 — Following is the text of an introduction to a speech in the Senate today on the "Lessons of Vietnam" by Senator George McGovern, Democrat of South Dakota, and excerpts from the speech:

Introduction

Before delivering the prepared text of my remarks on Vietnam, which were completed several days ago, I wish to make a few comments that are prompted by recent developments. For several years, a number of Senators, including the majority leader, the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, the most senior Republican, Senator Aiken, and other Senators have warned against our escalating troop commitment to Vietnam.

We have predicted that each new escalation of forces on our part would lead to a further escalation on the other side, thus setting the stage for a larger and bloodier war on the Asian mainland. This is the very course most of our best generals have warned against for many years.

The predictions and the warnings of our generals and the Senate critics have proved to be right.

The glittering military solutions of the war hawks have proved to be right.

Say General Follows Orders
Now in their frustration, the hawks are trying to blame the failure of their policy on their critics.

I do not blame General Westmoreland for his speech in New York because he is obviously doing both in Vietnam or in New York exactly what he is told to do by his commander-in-chief, the President.

From General Westmoreland on down, we have in Vietnam our finest soldiers and marines. They are brave men, and they have fought with valor and distinction, as American fighting men have always fought. This only adds to the heartache of those of us who feel that these brave men are in Vietnam because of the shortsightedness of our political and diplomatic policy-makers.

In trying to imply that it is American dissent which is causing the Vietnamese to continue the war, the Administration is only confessing the weakness of its own case by trying to silence its critics and confuse the American people.

List of Criticisms

To assist in stimulating such a re-examination, I make the following indictments of our Vietnam policy:

1. Our Vietnam policy-makers have distorted history to justify our intervention in a civil conflict supposedly to external aggression; actually defend a free nation against we are backing a dictatorial group in Saigon against a competing group backed by a dictatorial regime in the North.

2. Our Vietnam policy-makers are unwittingly advancing the cause of Communism while seeking to contain it.

3. While orally calling for negotiations, we are practicing military escalation and diplomatic rigidity in such a fashion as to foreclose negotiations.

4. Our policy-makers have frequently misled the American public, the result being a serious loss of credibility for the U.S. Government.

5. We are wasting human and material resources needed for the revitalization of our society.

6. We are jeopardizing essential U.S. foreign-policy interests, including a promising improvement in East-West relations.

7. We bypassed the United Nations until the 11th hour and have disregarded the opinion and the sensibilities of the international community.

8. We are weakening America's moral position and beclouding American idealism.

9. We are creating at home a climate of intimidation designed to silence dissent and meaningful discussion of policy.

Recommendations

"We should clearly state our willingness to negotiate directly with the Vietcong with some recognition that they will play a significant role in any provisional government resulting from a cease-fire and a negotiated settlement."

"We should use what influence we have to encourage a more broadly based civilian government in Saigon. A government willing to start discussions with the other side looking toward arrangements to end the war."

"We should advocate an international presence to police a cease-fire, supervise elections, provide an umbrella for the resettlement of Vietnamese concerned about their safety and arrange for the withdrawal of all outside forces and the conversion of military bases to peacetime uses."

For the future, members of Congress and the Administration will do well to heed the admonition of Edmund Burke, a distinguished legislator of an earlier day: "A conscientious man would be cautious how he dealt in blood."

NORWALK, Conn., April 26 — Following are excerpts from a speech today on the Vietnam war by the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, general secretary of the World Council of Churches at an ecumenical meeting here:

The Present Policy of the United States in Vietnam

It has for several years been my personal conviction that the present trend of United States policy and action in Vietnam is the greatest danger to human survival with the single exception of the present policy and action of the people's republic of China.

First let us examine what is wrong with the United States policy.

It is increasingly a unilateral policy and less and less supported by the peoples and governments who have been our allies in resisting Communist aggression. Our course has all the elements of high tragedy. More like Hamlet or King Lear than Macbeth or Julius Caesar, unable to distinguish friend from foe, caught in a dilemma which makes any decision increasingly difficult, the United States seems to be stumbling on towards final disaster.

Our high ideals more and more suspected by our best friends among the nations, we find our position successfully attacked by our enemies and we find ourselves more and more isolated from our friends.

Even those governments who share our fear of Communist aggression dare not fully and publicly support us because of the almost hysterical fears of their people of what we will do next, offer now the alternative in four points.

"Stop bombing North Vietnam. This escalation has already been proved wrong militarily and psychologically."

"Make it clear that we will not impose our peace upon Vietnam. (No longer is a Korea-type settlement possible. In a short time even a neutralizing of Southeast Asia will be impossible.)"

"Agree with our allies in Asia and Europe that we will accept any peace that they will develop and agree to."

"Put your full effort to getting to the negotiation table."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is examining critically its own costly and expanding role as life-giver to hundreds of Americans who would die without access to federally owned artificial kidneys.

A special advisory committee of 10 medical and social scientists is due to report shortly. The panel was named last July — but never announced — by the Budget Bureau in consultation with the presidential Office of Science and Technology.

Findings to Help Decision
Its findings will help several agencies make policy decisions on whether to expand, diminish, or alter the government's status as chief owner-operator of the bulky, expensive hardware that lets chronic kidney disease patients go on living after their kidneys stop functioning.

Figures are not available on the current over-all costs of the kidney machine program, but estimates run well over $1 million monthly. One estimate on the cost of a progressively expanded program 10 years from now places the total at $1 billion yearly.

Heading the advisory committee is Dr. Carl W. Gottschalk of the University of North Carolina. He reports his group will submit its findings by July 1. Officials give no assurance that the report ever will be made public in full.

Involved are some difficult judgments in ethics and equity, and the underlying hard fact that thousands of kidney disease patients are dying every year who could be kept alive with "artificial kidneys. The problems include:

—Whether survival should be subsidized for some kidney patients while others die. Veterans' hospitals and Public Health Service — PHS — centers own most of the existing machines, but not enough to meet more than a fraction of the national need.

Difficult Decisions
—Whether the government should commit itself — and kidney disease patients for years to come — to this particular device, should pour funds into the promising technique of transplanting human or animal kidneys, or other devices.

—Whether the concentration on kidney disease is justifiable. Might the victims of other diseases also be kept alive by costly and complex devices or treatment, if some of the funds were diverted into other technologies?

—Whether local demonstration centers should be launched with only three-year PHS grants, as at present. If communities cannot support the centers when the money runs out, are the patients to be allowed to die?

Though the committee has tried to operate confidentially, word of its existence and activity has begun to circulate among medical men because it has held interviews and meetings across the country.

Therefore officials of the Budget Bureau, Veterans Administration, Department of Health, Education and Welfare and other agencies agreed to discuss the problems — but not the proposed solution — with The Associated Press.

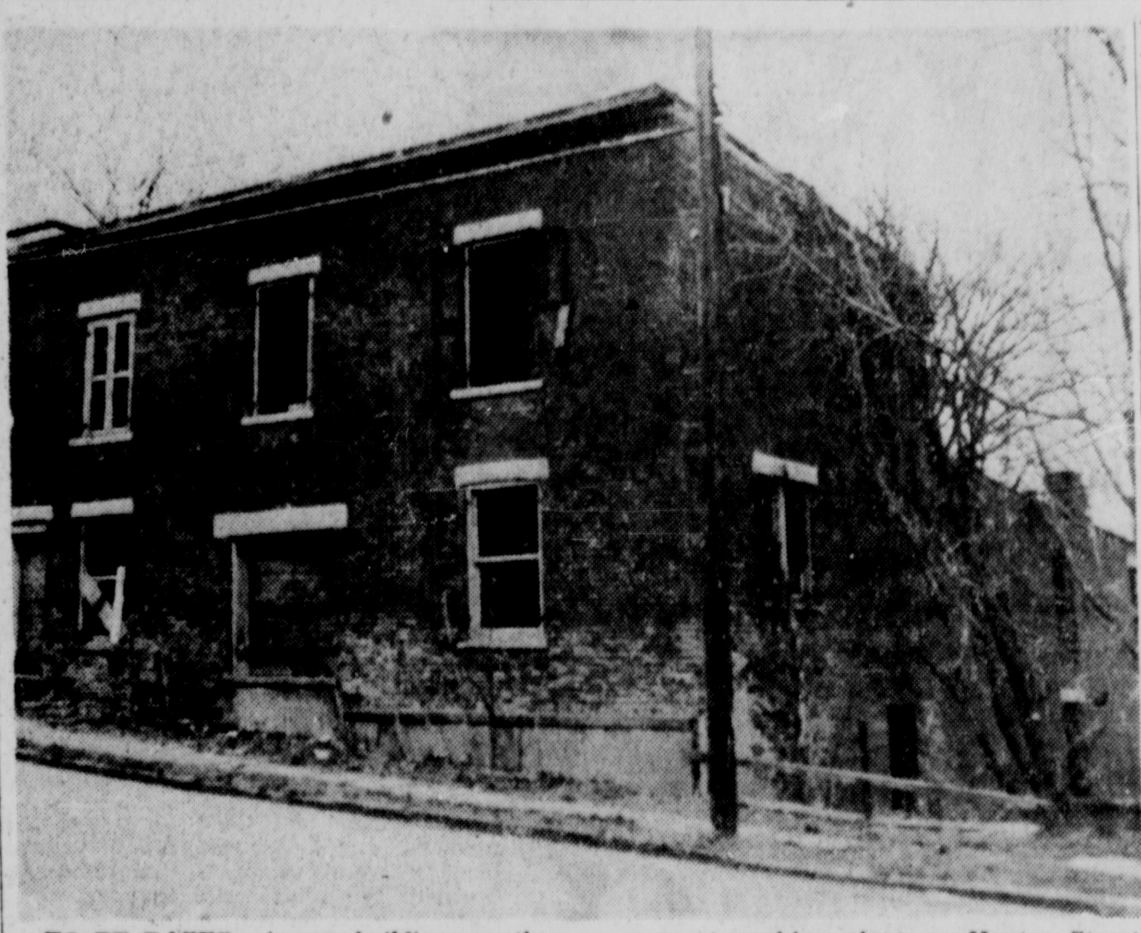

Dialysis Helms 700
About 700 American men and women are being kept alive by the technique of dialysis — the "washing" of the blood in the bulky and complicated machine called the artificial kidney.

The government pays most of the bill, officials said, simply because at this stage dialysis costs too much for most private institutions — in terms not only of money but of space, equipment, staff, and nursing, medical and supervisory manpower.

The patients can live almost normal lives, except for all-day or all-night stays in the hospital or clinic two or three times every week.

There the patient is hooked up to the dialysis equipment by tubes attached to blood-vessel connections embedded permanently in his arm. His blood is fed continuously into the apparatus and back through his body.

The machine filters out the wastes which normally are removed by the kidneys — and which, when the kidneys fail, cause death.

The Veterans Administration has 23 dialysis centers in operation or in process of being set up. The PHS has demonstration centers operating in 13 cities; each can care for 20 to 30 patients.

Acknowledged Pressures
There are acknowledged pressures, inside and outside the government, for great expansion of this unique medical service. But even if unlimited funds were available, a plan devised by any one of the agencies involved would not necessarily suit the others.

Reports have been heard in medical circles that the Gottschalk committee will urge a deliberately paced program to set up a chain of treatment centers, developed in many cases from the existing PHS demonstration centers.

Gottschalk said it "most certainly would be premature" to predict the committee's recommendations on that score, or to verify reports that the committee will emphasize reliance on private rather than federal financing of artificial kidney treatments.

"We hope for participation by all groups—federal, local, public and private," he said.

But officials agree that any major expansion of dialysis will involve huge additional outlays. The price has averaged $14,000 per machine, and the cost of hospital dialysis is estimated officially at $10,000 to $25,000 per patient per year.

Home Experiments Promising
There have been promising recent experiments with home dialysis and with much simpler, cheaper apparatus—some adapted from home washing machines. Home dialysis is not always possible, and the efficiency and reliability of the low-cost units remains to be proved.

The number of medically eligible cases developing each year has been estimated at from 5,000 to 90,000.

One official built an estimate of potential costs this way: Assume that 6,000 new hospital cases are added to the roster of patients annually, after allowing for a 10 per cent annual death rate among the patients. Assume that hospital costs continue to average about $17,500 a patient. Then, in about 10 years there would be some 60,000 patients under treatment, and the cost would touch $1 billion a year. Cheaper machines could reduce the outlays—but the cost trend would be steeply up if the number of medically eligible patients were doubled or tripled.

The Budget Bureau is concerned about what happens to patients in the PHS demonstration centers when the time comes for the government to drop its demonstration grants. Only one center, the one in Seattle, Wash., has reached that stage. A $500,000 fund-raising campaign was required. "How

Post Not Involved
The Post, the city's sixth major newspaper, is not a member of the association and is not involved in the current negotiations.

The settlement between the Daily News and the printers was praised by Mayor John V. Lindsay in his regular Sunday night broadcast over WNYC, the municipal radio station.

Lindsay added: "I must warn, however, that there's a long way to go because there are a group of other unions that have still not settled."

The Daily News printer's settlement was the first one reached since the March 30 contract expiration.

Request Early Meet Between Unions, Papers
NEW YORK (AP) — Bertram A. Powers, president of printers union Local 6, says he has asked the New York Times for a contract negotiation meeting "at the earliest opportunity."

Powers said Sunday he had asked for a meeting in a letter sent to the Times Saturday.

C. Raymond Hulsart, general director of personnel and industrial relations for the Times, said Sunday he had not yet received the letter, and added: "However, we are prepared to meet with the printers as soon as it can be arranged."

Powers said he was hopeful that negotiations with the Times could be concluded quickly because "the pattern was set with the agreement we reached with the Daily News on Friday."

21 Per Cent Pay Hike
The tentative agreement between negotiators for the Daily News and the printers union is subject to union membership ratification. It provides a pay increase of about 21 per cent over the term of a three-year contract, a shorter work week and other benefits.

One benefit was a cost of living adjustment clause, the first in the newspaper industry here. The printers now are paid a basic $151.85 for day work with higher pay for night work.

The printers are one of 10 unions whose contracts with five major newspapers in the city expired March 30. In addition to the Times and Daily News, the papers are the World Journal Tribune, Long Island Daily Press and Long Island Star-Journal. All five are members of the Publishers Association of New York City.

Narcotic Count On Prof Under Faculty Probe

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A faculty committee at the State University of Buffalo will investigate the circumstances involving the arrest of an English professor on narcotics charges, the school president says.

Martin Meverson, university president, said Saturday the committee, which he appointed, was expected to submit its report on Dr. Leslie A. Fiedler to him before Friday.

Fiedler, also a noted literary critic and novelist, is scheduled to teach his next class on Friday. "I have made it clear that this administration will not tolerate students who are found trafficking in illegal drugs," Meverson said. "We will not tolerate faculty colleagues similarly involved."

Meverson said Samuel B. Gould, chancellor of the State University of New York, was the only person under existing policies who could bring formal charges against Fiedler.

The university president said he could suspend a faculty member with salary pending, find action by the State University's Board of Trustees.

Fiedler, 50, was taken into custody Friday night during a police raid on his home here. A quantity of marijuana and hashish, a stronger and more refined form of marijuana, was confiscated, police said.

Mrs. Mary Stahl Has Birthday; Marks 80 Years

Four generations were represented at a birthday party for Mrs. Mary Stahl of Kingston. A native of Frankfurt am Main, Germany, Mrs. Stahl immigrated to the United States in 1892. She is now 80 years old.

Known affectionately to her grandchildren as "Nanny," Mrs. Stahl is an active individual to the point that she didn't hesitate to participate in modern dances at her party.

Although she is now retired, Mrs. Stahl states she "is still willing and able to work."

Mrs. Stahl received many congratulatory messages and gifts in honor of the occasion.

RETIREMENT DINNER — Jack Paikoff who is retiring after 28 years in the garment industry in Kingston was honored at a dinner Wednesday night at the Capri Restaurant, Port Ewen. The Well Child

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
AUTISTIC CHILD NEEDS LOVE AND MENTAL STIMULATION

There are some children who fail to show any capacity for love, fail to communicate with parents or other children, prefer to be alone and insist on certain rituals in their play, eating and preparing for bed.

These children—called autistic—often perform phenomenal feats of memory or mechanical skill despite their abnormality.

Because of their poor communication they are in danger of being considered feeble-minded, which they are not, and of being committed to an institution.

Often these children, who refuse to speak until they are 5 or 6 years old, show by their fine command of language that they have been learning all the time they were mute—learning the very things their parents thought they had failed to teach them.

The autistic child is deficient in emotional and social development. When no one has the time and patience (and it takes a lot of both) to work with them, they go through life with a severe handicap. Since they are not outgoing in even a small degree it is often hard for a parent to shower them with the love and mental stimulation they so sorely need. They love twirling or spinning toys and they appreciate soothing music but can't stand noise.

When loving attention is given they can gradually be brought out of their autism to some extent. In school, they should be placed in special groups of only two or three pupils and should be under the care of a teacher who understands their limitations and their needs.

Unfortunately, the cause of this disorder is not known. The outcome depends on the degree of autism, how early in life it is recognized and how it is treated. Ridicule and punishment for failure to talk will only increase the problem. Often the worst handicap for these children is the discouragement (not without foundation) of the parents.

Any mother who has, or thinks she may have, an autistic child should write to the National Institute of Mental Health, Bethesda, Md., or her state Department of Health for specific information on how best to help her child.

Sharon Williams of Saugerties Is Wed To Dale Van Benschoten in April Rites

Miss Sharon Lee Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Williams of 71 Montgomery Street, Saugerties, and Dale Howard Van Benschoten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Van Benschoten of Mt. Marion exchanged nuptial vows 2 p. m. Sunday, April 23, at St. Mary of the Snow Church, Saugerties.

The Rev. Joseph F. Hamilton, assistant pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mr. Charles Dickman was organist and Nelson Burhans, soloist. White gladioli decorated the altar for the occasion.

Escorted in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of lace trimmed with sequins. The five-tiered skirt terminated in a chapel length train. Her three-tiered fingertip illusion veil was attached to double queen crown of pearls and she carried an arrangement of white roses, carnations and stephanotis.

Her sister, Miss Bernadette Williams of Saugerties was maid of honor. She wore a peacock blue chiffon gown in em-silk and carried a lace parasol with varicolored carnations.

Other bridal attendants were Mel Pasano of Kingston, Margaret Kearney of Mt. Marion and Lorraine Hutter of Saugerties. They wore chiffon gowns of green glow, lilac and pelican and carried parasols with carnations.

Glen Van Benschoten of Mt. Marion was best man for his brother. Ushers were William Sutton of Ruby, William Boyce of Kingston and Blair Cornish of Stone Ridge.

A reception for 150 guests from Kingston, Saugerties, Cementon, Mt. Marion, Ruby, Stone Ridge, Catskill and Connecticut was held at the Cementon Sportsmen's Club. Dancing was to the music of Johnny Sarrenno's orchestra of Catskill.

HASTINGS - ON - HUDSON, N. Y. (AP) — Sculptor Jacques Lipschitz, 75, has lived in this Westchester County town for 20 years, and citizens Sunday opened a week-long tribute to him.

Some 500 persons showed up to view six of his sculptures, along with works by other sculptors and artists who reside in the area. A special room in the village library was set aside for the exhibits.

Lipschitz has had his studio, on a hilltop overlooking the Hudson River, since 1947.

Next Sunday, he will present to the townspeople an 11-foot bronze called "Between Heaven and Earth." It will be installed in front of the municipal building.

bride wore a brown and white suit ensemble with corsage of white roses, carnations and stephanotis. The couple will reside in Barclay Heights, Saugerties.

The bride is a graduate of Saugerties High School and Richard I Beauty School. She is a beautician at Joseph Hair Stylist, Saugerties.

Mr. Van Benschoten is a graduate of Kingston High School and Riverside College, Calif. He is a technician at IBM. The bridegroom served four years with the Air Force.

Farm Bureau Group Has Guest Speakers

The Farm Bureau Kitchen Conference held its monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Davis, Kerhonkson, recently.

Robert Guzewich, Ulster County Cooperative Extension Agent, and Calvin Jones, Dairyman's League Field representative were guest speakers. Their topic was on the Federal Milk Marketing Order.

Attending also were Mrs. Robert Guzewich, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Boice, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald DeWitt, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Boice, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Boice Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Denksohn, Mr. and Mrs. John Kaufman, and Mr. and Mrs. David Bogert.

BETTY CANARY

Oh, I shudder, absolutely shudder, to think what Susan B. Anthony and Emmeline Pankhurst would say today. After all they did to emancipate women and now refuse to speak for themselves.

I've heard all the talk about women controlling the finances of the United States, and I've read those comics where artists insist upon making father the funny figure while mother runs the whole shebang. The insurance companies say women even live longer than men. But, despite all of this, I have a feeling it is NOT a woman's world and that we're not becoming a race of Amazons. (As far as bumbling fathers and husbands are concerned, I have the suspicion that the only men henpecked by wives and ridiculed by children are the ones who are asking for it.)

However, back to the suffragettes. Here the nation is in a turmoil over birth control and proposed new abortion laws and I'm wondering why the only voices we hear belong to men.

I watched a television program recently and there sat these erudite gentlemen—theologians, doctors, a lawyer and a judge. They were discussing abortion laws.

Well, they talked about morality and they got onto mental health and physical fitness and their conversation wandered about, touching here and there on the civil rights of a fetus.

They showed off their knowledge about when fingernails and eyelashes are formed, and they tossed around terms such as embryonic and sperm and ova and they talked about rapists and impressed each other with Biblical references to incest.

Why, it was enough to make Amelia Bloomer hitch up her Turkish pantaloons in rage! Never once did they mention women's rights or civil liberties!

I've noticed there have been efforts by legislators in some states this year to liberalize abortion laws and I read that in one southern state a bill so shocked the lawmakers that it never made it to the floor. In Indiana, the governor vetoed a bill, his feet planted solidly on "moral grounds."

Before I get a radical label pinned on me, I hasten to point out that I'm not fighting these nice men. I merely want them to invite in some women to swap and share opinions.

Personally, I'm inclined to think that if a woman becomes the victim of a maniac, she should be granted the privilege of a deciding whether or not she cares to bear his child.

Anyway, I think it is simply grand the way churchmen and politicians and doctors concern themselves with criminals and babies. When are we going to hear concern for the women?

Workshop Speaker

Economic opportunities for women in retailing will be discussed by the general manager of Sears Roebuck at a special "shop talk" session sponsored by the Ulster County Business and Professional Women's Club on Wednesday. The career-orientated workshop is designed to assist those women who wish to advance in their jobs, women who wish to work full or part time and high school and college students.

The speaker will be Robert March. He will be accompanied by Richard Fredenburgh, soft lines manager for Sears and James Milligan, credit manager.

The workshop session, open to all at no charge, is scheduled for May 3 from 8-10 p. m. at the Governor Clinton Hotel, this city.

Other areas of business represented at the workshop will include banking, manufacturing and commercial.

Speakers in each of these sections will include: Howard Stephens, cashier, State of New York National Bank; Frank H.

Doing The Right Thing

BY ELIZABETH L. POST of the Emily Post Institute
NEWCOMER WONDERS
HOW TO FURTHER FRIENDSHIPS

Dear Mrs. Post: We have just moved into a semi-rural area. A "neighbor" who lives several miles away invited eight women to lunch to acquaint me with some of my other neighbors. I liked them and would be pleased to see them again. But how? I do not wish to push myself on anyone and have been waiting for them to call on me. I did invite them to drop in to see me as I'm usually at home.—Mrs. M.M.

Dear Mrs. M.M.: Since you have been properly introduced to these ladies, it's perfectly all right for you to make the next move. Rather than asking all eight to lunch, invite your hostess and two or three of the others. In this way you can get to know them more intimately and they will undoubtedly return your invitation. If possible, join a church group or other organization in which you might meet the same women again, and certainly will meet others.

Serving Coffee or Tea At The Table

Dear Mrs. Post: Would you please tell me how coffee or tea is served at a sit-down dinner? Does the hostess sit and pass the filled cups down to each guest, or should the coffee be poured before seating the guests, or should the hostess go around to each guest and pour it? Most of our guests prefer it with their meals and a refill with dessert.—Mrs. H.C.

Dear Mrs. H.C.: Don't pour the coffee before seating the guests as it cools off so quickly. The cups would be apt to spill if passed down the table from hand to hand, so the best method is for the hostess to go to each guest and pour the coffee while her husband is serving food.

Bachelor Guest or Hostess Served First?

Dear Mrs. Post: When we have a male guest for dinner—a bachelor—does my husband serve his plate first, or mine?—Mrs. L.

Dear Mrs. L.: Since you are the only woman at the table, he should violate the "guests first" rule and serve your plate first.

What is your most puzzling etiquette problem? To the sender of the most interesting question that we receive each week, we'll send a free copy of Emily Post's Etiquette. The question chosen and its answer, will be published in this column every Friday. Send your question to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of this newspaper, and don't forget to include your name and address.

Orange County Fair Seeking '67 Exhibitors

The Orange County Fair at Middletown is launching an all-out campaign to secure exhibitors for the 127th exposition which opens Friday, July 28 for 10-days.

Fair General Manager, Al Howard announced today every effort will be made to secure outstanding commercial and industrial exhibits for the fair. Howard said the campaign would combine advertising with personal calls by Orange County Fair representatives.

In planning the lay-out for the 1967 Fair officials created a brand-new midway in an area that would have a large flow of people. This newly created midway will be the site for the commercial and industrial exhibits. Howard pointed out that business leaders would be able to display their wares to an anticipated half-million people at a very economical cost.

Businessmen interested in obtaining exhibit space at the fair may obtain complete information by contacting the Orange County Fair, 239 Wisner Avenue, Middletown 10940.

Plattsburgh Wins Opener, Then Bows, 7-1

Paul Gadowski, a junior college transfer, made his first start as a winning one Saturday as he hurled the State University (New Paltz) Hawks to a 7-1 SUNYAC win over Plattsburgh in the second game of a doubleheader at the Ulster County diamond.

The upstarters won the opener, 2-0, pinning another tough defeat on Danny Zipkin, Hawk ace.

Gadowski allowed only four hits while walking five and fanning six in his initial start. The righty was aided by first baseman Bob Colotta, who slammed a single, triple and home run while driving in three markers.

Colotta, who is cruising along with a .500 average (10 for 20), tripled with two runners on base in the first inning. Walt Bleyman followed with a single, stole second and scored on Frank O'Connor's base hit.

A pair of errors gave the home side two runs more in the second. Colotta slammed his home run in the third. The drive soared to deep left and the Hawk slugger circled the bases before it could be retrieved.

Aside from a fifth inning run, Gadowski was invincible. He allowed only four hits along the way and his mates aided him on defense.

Zipkin continued to run into tough luck in the opener. He was touched for a run scoring triple by Bill Kennedy in the opening session. In the fifth, the New Paltz hurler dropped a throw while a runner was coming in from third base.

The Hawks were helpless against the slants of Bob Dingman. They managed only five hits, all of them singles. Dingman exhibited perfect control and fanned five. Zipkin passed four and struck out half a dozen.

New Paltz is now 2-4 for the season and has a 1-3 record in conference play. The Hawks play Tuesday at Maritime and entertain Oneonta State on Thursday in a league game.

A RECORD HIT—New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle slams a three-run homer in the bottom of the 10th inning Sunday at Yankee Stadium to give the Yanks a 4-1 victory over the California Angels in the first game of a doubleheader. The homer was Mick's 244th hit which tied him for third on the all-time Yankee list with Joe DiMaggio. The homer was the 498th of his career. UPI TELEPHOTO.

Kingston and Saugerties Share Colonial City Prizes

Area bowling teams won both major prizes in the fourth annual Colonial City tournament which ended Sunday night at Sangi's Bowlero.

Kingston Oil Supply No. 1 keggers rolled 3227 gross to edge Potter Brothers of Kingston by two pins for the $1,000 prize in the team handicap division.

The 675-average team posted 2552 in the wood and had maximum 675 pins handicap.

Ed Weber furnished the excitement for the Oilmen, striking out in the 10th frame of the last game to send his team soaring past Potter Brothers and Lockwood Movers.

Harry Van Vleet led the team with 682 gross. Ernest Mann had 674, Ken Weber 650, Ron Keiber 596 and Edward Weber 631.

Seven of the eight team leaders are from the Kingston-Saugerties area.

Jack Farrell, Saugerties sub anchor, led the Ambulance squad with 617. Frank Bandiero rolled 645 to help Modern Refrigeration of Newburgh to third place in net.

Bob's Chevron of Planeville rolled into the money with 3133 gross.

The 675-average Kingston Oil team posted 2552 in the wood and had maximum 675 pins handicap.

Helen Ellsworth led the distaff department on 527. Diane Koem fired 522, Marie Bechtold 507.

Toronto Needs One for Clincher

MONTREAL (AP)—A furious Toe Blake tried to rally his Montreal Canadiens after the defending Stanley Cup champions dropped the pivotal fifth game of their final series to Toronto 4-1 Saturday.

The Canadiens trail in the best-of-7 series 3-2 and must win Tuesday's sixth game in Toronto to stay alive.

"We actually gave the goals away," Blake stormed. "We handed them the first two goals and then really fell asleep on the third one. That was a masterpiece of one team handing the puck over to another."

Rookie goalie Rogation Vachon, who sparked the Canadiens to a 16-game unbeaten string at the end of the regular season and through the semifinal series against New York, was the victim of a three-goal second period flurry that helped the Maple Leafs to their victory.

Blake pulled the rookie after two periods and veteran Gump Worsley, who hadn't played since March 12, tookover in the Montreal nets for the final 20 minutes. Worsley did not allow a goal, stopping 10 shots.

"Vachon wasn't to blame," said Blake. "We gave the puck away and then just stood around and watched them put it in the net."

New Look Dodgers Please the Giants

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The new look in Los Angeles is working out nicely — for the San Francisco Giants.

"They're not Dodgers any more. At least, not the Dodgers I've known," Jim Davenport said Sunday after helping the Giants beat Don Drysdale 5-1 to complete their first three-game sweep at Los Angeles in 10 years.

"It's strange to look around and not see Sandy Koufax, Maury Wills, Tommy Davis, Lou Johnson and Willie Davis, added Davenport, whose two-run pinch single capped San Francisco's decisive seventh inning rally. "They aren't the same team without them."

Koufax's retirement, the loss of Wills and Tommy Davis in trades and injuries to Johnson and Willie Davis all have contributed to the National League champions' early-season troubles. The Dodgers have dropped 10 of their 16 starts and are mired in eighth place, seven games behind league-leading Cincinnati.

The Giants didn't miss the absent Dodgers in taking the first two games of the series 5-4 and 5-8, and they were happy to see holdover Drysdale in Sunday's winnow game.

7th Straight Loss
The loss was Drysdale's seventh straight to San Francisco, although the veteran right hander still holds a 29-25 career edge over the Giants.

While Bob Bolin and reliever Frank Linzy combined for a three-hitter that lifted the slow-starting Giants past Los Angeles into seventh place, Cincinnati divided a doubleheader with the New York Mets and moved 3½ games up on second-place St. Louis.

The Reds, beaten 2-0 by Don Cardwell's three-hitter in the opener, took the second game 3-2 behind rookie Gary Nolan. The Cardinals bowed to Pittsburgh 2-0 as Juan Pizarro fired a four-hitter, and his catcher, Jerry May, drove in both runs with a homer and single.

Philadelphia split a twin bill with Atlanta, winning 6-4 before falling 6-3 in the nightcap, and rookie Rich Nye's four-hitter led the Chicago Cubs past Houston 4-1 in other NL games.

The Giants caught up with Drysdale in the seventh after he had yielded one run and two hits while striking out nine — through the first six innings.

Successive singles by Jim Hart, Tom Haller and Ollie Brown sent the Giants ahead 2-1 before Hal Lanier sacrificed and Davenport, batting for Bolin, delivered the two-run crusher.

Linzy Saves Game
Linzy then blanked Los Angeles over the final three innings, protecting Bolin's second victory in four decisions.

Deron Johnson's run-scoring single off Mets rookie Tom Seaver broke a 2-2 tie in the second game at Cincinnati, enabling 18-year-old Nolan to boost his pitching record to 2-1. Ron Swoboda's second inning homer, one of two New York hits in the opener, was all Cardwell needed in outpitching the Reds' Billy McCool.

May stroked a run-scoring single off loser Larry Jaster in the second inning at St. Louis and slammed his second major league homer off reliever Nelson Briles in the fifth as the Pirates ran their winning string to four.

Consecutive doubles by pinch hitters Don Lock and Gary Sutherland produced three runs in the ninth, pushing Philadelphia past the Braves. Felipe Alou, Joe Torre and Rico Carty all homered for Atlanta in the sixth.

The Braves bounced back in the second game, scoring three runs in the fifth and adding a pair in the sixth on back-to-back homers by Alou and Hank Aaron. Tlou had four hits, including a single that triggered the fifth inning rally.

Ron Santo blasted a three-run homer off Houston's Bo Belinsky in the first inning and Nye made the margin stand up, retiring 15 of the first 16 Astros he faced. The young left-hander had previously pitched 22 1-3 innings in the majors without being backed by a Cub run.

New Look Dodgers Please the Giants

By MURRAY CHASS

Steve Barber should forget about no-hitters. He'd be better off pitching a no-walker.

Barber, the Baltimore Oriole who was supposed to have trouble with his left arm, displayed trouble only with his control Sunday as he and Stu Miller became the first pitching pair in baseball history to hurl a no-hitter and lose in nine innings.

Barber did the bulk of the work, holding Detroit hitless for 8 2-3 innings. But he walked 10 Tigers, and after the last one, there was no holding Manager Hank Bauer any longer.

He called in Miller, who preserved the no-hitter but not the victory as the Tigers scored on Mark Belanger's error and won the first game of the doubleheader 2-1.

The Tigers' first run, also scored in the ninth inning, came on a wild pitch — minutes after Barber issued his eighth and ninth walks and just before he recorded No. 10. As Mickey Stanley trotted to first with that walk, Bauer walked out of the dugout.

"I tried to get it for you," Bauer told Barber when he reached the mound.

"If you can't get the ball over, you don't deserve to win," replied the 28-year-old southpaw, who also hit two batters and made an error.

Barber Blameless
After history had been made, Barber was quick to absolve Bauer of any bad-guy charge for not letting him get the no-hitter by himself.

"If I hadn't been pitching a no-hitter, I would have been out long before that," Barber said, his left elbow resting in ice. "I was out of gas in the fifth inning. I'm not upset about losing the no-hitter. I'm more concerned about losing the game."

"No-hitters are not worth anything in the books unless you win."

Barber came almost as close to a no-hitter in his first start of the season, exactly two weeks before. In that game, the Oriole veteran held California hitless until Jim Fregosi doubled with one out in the ninth.

He walked just three Angels, but his control trouble picked up considerably in his second start on the second Sunday of the sea-

Syracuse Wins, 8-4, Retains League Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Richmond's Braves are having fainting spells again, and anyone in the International League can tell you what that means. In case you need a hint, it means that Rochester's Red Wings have come to town.

Players come and players go. The cast of characters, as in all minor leagues, changes year by year. But Rochester's devastation effect on the Braves goes on forever. Or so it seems.

True, when the teams met Saturday night in Richmond for the first time this season, Richmond won 9-4. But Sunday, the Braves awoke and got back into their old habits. Rochester swept a twin bill, 11-7 and 1-0.

Columbus also swept a Sunday pair, burying Toronto a bit deeper into the LL basement by beating the Maple Leafs 7-5, 4-3. Lehigh Valley's Syracuse clipped Jacksonville, 8-4, and Buffalo split a pair at Toledo, winning 6-4, then losing to the Mud Hens, 6-3.

Rochester, offsetting a grand slam homer by Richmond's Dave Nicholson, had 18 hits in its opening game triumph. Five of the hits came in a five-run seventh inning that won the game.

In the nightcap, Mickey McGuire's double—his fifth straight safety— and Charlie Leonard's pinch hit single in the seventh gave Rick Delgado the victory over Julio Navarro in a tight pitching duel.

Good Pitching
Columbus got stout relief pitching from Sam Jones and Ed Hobaugh in blizzing Toronto. Bob Robertson's solo homer put the Jets ahead to stay in the opener. Columbus broke a 3-3 tie in the seventh frame of the nightcap on a walk, a steal, Elvio Jimenez' single and a Leaf error.

Stan Swanson had three RBI for Buffalo with a home run and double in the Bisons' first-game victory at Toledo. Ike Brown's two-run single featured a three-run fifth inning that helped the Mud Hens annex the second game. Reliever Mike Marshall saved the nightcap for starter John Hiller by inducing Len Boehmer to bounce into a double play with the bases loaded.

Rookie southpaw John Cumberland, 19, pitched Syracuse to its fourth straight victory at Jacksonville. Cumberland gave the Suns only six hits in 7 1/3 innings before tiring and giving way to Tony Przybycien. Sam Parrilla homered for the Chiefs.

Asks New Format For Oscar Shows

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Oscar is still the talk of the town — any town.

Three weeks later, folks are still discussing the pros and cons — mostly cons — about the 39th Academy Awards. And not only in Hollywood. According to network estimates, 65 million people saw the Oscarcast, making it one of the most-viewed television shows in history.

During a recent visit to the Midwest, I heard such questions and comments as:

Didn't Honor Disney
"Why did Julie Christie wear that awful outfit?" "Wasn't it disgraceful that Elizabeth Taylor didn't make an appearance to accept her Oscar?" "Why was no tribute paid to the memory of Walt Disney?"

Nowhere was the Oscarcast more thoroughly discussed than among the Hollywood film makers in Kansas for "In Cold Blood." They huddled around television sets in motel rooms, scrutinizing the annual ritual in the homeland.

One interested viewer was Richard Brooks, a nominee for his direction of "The Professionals." Not because he lost to the favorite, Fred Zinnemann, but because he is naturally combative. Brooks afterward put forth his own plan for making the awards the greatest show on earth.

"In the first place," he pronounced, "there would be no telecast to home sets. The entire show would be put on closed-circuit television and made available to any theater that wants it."

Thus instead of having the nation's theaters empty on awards night, they would be filled. And the customers could stay and see the regular film attraction, if they cared to.

The proposal of theater television has been made and rejected before. It is the second part of the Brooks Plan that is revolutionary:

"I would do away with the Abercrombie and Fitch boys." He means the Price, Waterhouse, accountants who tally the votes. The entire voting would take place at the very moment the audience was watching.

Outlines Idea
"Here's how it would work: all 2,500 members of the academy would be seated in the auditorium. Before each seat would be five buttons. The five nominees for best actress would appear on the screen. Then the voters would be asked to press the button corresponding to their choice."

New Train Plan Works
NEWARK (AP)—Some 30,000 North Jersey commuters gave the Aldene Plan its first crucial test this morning and transportation officials said it worked.

Many were crowded into trains and complained of the service, but officials said only "minor problems" beset travelers.

The plan—designed to improve service and to reduce operating deficits on the bankrupt Jersey Central Railroad—actually went into operation Sunday.

But today, some 6,500 additional weekend riders were funneled through Pennsylvania station on their way to New York and things got a bit confused.

A spokesman for the Jersey Central said that most of the confusion was caused by a lack of familiarity with the station, getting from trains to the tubes.

A loud speaker system failed to operate effectively, officials conceded, and only one token booth was open at 7 a.m. As a result, long lines developed as passengers queued up to buy their subway tokens.

The railroad estimated it would have all problems ironed out in a week or two.

Texas leads all states of the Union in production of sheep and goats, and of wool and mohair.

Move Surveyor
PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—"We moved it very gently, just enough to find out if it was a rock lying on the surface, or a piece of boulder protruding," said a Jet Propulsion Laboratory spokesman.

The flexible arm of Surveyor 3 was nudging a rock on the moon Sunday to help scientists learn how the lunar surface will respond to astronauts landing on it. The one-inch rock was solid, scientists concluded, because the robot spacecraft's claw did not break it.

Surveyor photographed the rock through color filters to add detail for specialists who will analyze it later. The photographs were among 861 taken Sunday to bring the total taken to 5,487 since landing on the moon 11 days ago.

Parked Car Damaged
Kingston state police are investigating an accident which damaged a car owned by James Hicks of Tillson at about 11:30 a. m. Saturday. Hicks said his car was parked in the Shop-Rite lot off Route 9W, when an unidentified vehicle hit it and pushed it into another parking space. Trooper Thomas Crowley investigated and the operator of the other car is asked to contact state police or Hicks by telephone.

Highland Woman Is Killed in Orange Mishap
A 23-year-old Highland woman was fatally injured at 1:50 a. m. today, when her car was involved in a head-on collision with a truck operated by Henry Hoyt, 47, of Milton, on Route 9W, Town of Newburgh.

State Police said Linda Schatz, 23, of Box 398, Highland, was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Luke's Hospital by Orange County Coroner Harvey Agnew.

Troopers reported the woman was driving north when she reportedly drove into the southbound lane and was involved in a head-on collision with the southbound truck operated by Hoyt. The Milton man was taken to St. Luke's Hospital and treated for multiple contusions.

Driver Charged
Herbert R. Herdman, 21, of Town Gardens, Poughkeepsie, was charged with driving while intoxicated after the car he drove allegedly struck one parked on Broadway near Delaware Avenue shortly before 9 p. m. Sunday. Police listed Helen Kneog, of 17 Dunn Street, as owner of the parked car. Officer Joseph Kivlan investigated and cited Herdman for the violation. He is due for city court hearing Wednesday.

Get Extra Dump Time

Residents of the town of Ulster will have an additional hour on Wednesdays for disposal of refuse on the town dump. Due to the change in time and a program of "Spring clean-up" in the town, an additional hour between 6:30 and 7:30 p. m. will permit residents to use the dump each Wednesday. The Wednesday evening hour which the dump will be open, in addition to the regular hours of 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. and 8 a. m. to 3 p. m. Saturday hour.

Floridians Screaming For Rain

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Florida's peninsula—already drier than a strong martini—is getting just what the Florida Chamber of Commerce always predicts: warm, dry weather. But Floridians are screaming for cool rain. For all of April, the state had no measurable rain. Some sections, now on forest fire alerts, haven't had rain since February.

Most of the Sunshine State hasn't been this parched in a quarter century. Weathermen had to go back to 1898 to find the mark broken by the drought in the Tampa area.

Only a trace of rain has fallen on Tampa this year. The 1898 record for the first four months was .16 inches. Miami had .15 inches of rain in April compared with the previous record low of .33 inches in 1943 and an average of nearly four inches for the month.

The Weather Bureau says rainfall in the state for the year is 35 to 40 per cent below normal.

In a little Baptist church at Lake Alfred Sunday the congregation held a special prayer service for rain to "heal their land."

Key West already is rationing water, threatening to shut off anyone who wastes it. Miami is weighing the idea of a ban on car washing and lawn sprinkling.

Charge Ex-Convict In Mineola Assault

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — An ex-convict and ex-mental patient has been charged with raping a 16-year-old Long Island girl in a church. Arthur Bever, 30, a Freeport, N.Y., handyman, spoke to his weeping estranged wife Joan for five minutes before he was led from court to a detention pen.

His arraignment was put off to allow the 1st District Court time to appoint a lawyer for him. He said he had no money for counsel.

Mrs. Bever, separated from her husband eight months, watched from the back of the courtroom as he was ordered held without bail because of what an assistant district attorney termed a "quite extensive" criminal record.

Bever had been arrested 18 times previously, extending back to 1956. He has served time in Elmira Reformatory and was committed twice to Harlem Valley State Hospital, a mental institution, records show.

Prince Plays Field

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Crown Prince Carl Gustav of Sweden, on his 21st birthday Sunday, told newsmen he has no special gift—yet.

The prince celebrated with a party aboard the Swedish navy's 4,200-ton training ship Alvsnabben, here on a courtesy visit after a six-month world cruise.

Asked if he might marry Britain's Princess Ann, daughter of Queen Elizabeth II, the prince shrugged, grinned, and said: "There is no special girl back home. I'd be glad if there was." The prince has signed on for 2½ years as a naval cadet.

Tuesday Midnight Is the Witching Hour Time Running Out for Rocky To Act on Primary Election

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Time was running out today for Gov. Rockefeller to decide the fate of the politically sensitive proposal to establish New York State's first statewide primary election.

The Republican governor has until midnight Tuesday to act on the primary bill and more than 200 other measures remaining from the 945 sent him by the Legislature upon adjournment early last month.

Any bill on which he has not acted by the Tuesday deadline is automatically vetoed, Rockefeller, however, has seldom employed the so-called "pocket veto" in previous years.

To deal with the remaining bills, the governor planned to travel to Albany from New York City today after disposing of the paramount bill in his 1967 legislative program.

Earlier, he announced his decisions on scores of other bills. Among those he approved were:

— Permit county governments to assume half the cost of constructing and improving connecting highways and bridges within city limits. Heretofore, cities have borne the full cost of building and improving streets that have become, in effect, regional arteries serving transients and suburban residents.

— Free members of volunteer ambulance service teams from liability for the injury or death of patients they may treat in emergencies. The law will not, however, remove liability for death or injury caused by gross negligence.

The same bill authorizes the state health commissioner to set standards for the training of ambulance crew members in first aid and other emergency medical procedures.

— Establish a Birth Defects Institute within the State Health Department to conduct studies of the cause of such defects, publish the findings and advise parents.

— Empower the state public works superintendent to regulate establishment and operation of junkyards along major highways. The state must take that step, the governor said, or risk losing 10 per cent of the aid money provided annually for highways by the federal government.

— Authorize the New York Higher Education Assistance Corp. to loan money for tuition and other expenses to students attending or about to attend vocational institutions. Only college and university students are now eligible.

In other action, the governor vetoed legislation that would have:

— Eliminated the mandatory revocation of a probationary driver's license of a motorist convicted of a serious moving violation.

The bill would have taken that authority from the hands of the State Police superintendent and Motor Vehicles commissioner and given judges discretion in such cases.

— Prohibited driver's from following a fire truck at any time at a distance of less than 200 feet within cities and 500 feet elsewhere, if anyone is riding on the rear step of the truck.

— Required the immunization of every child attending school against measles, pertussis, diphtheria and tetanus, in addition to smallpox and polio.

Rockefeller said the proposal would impose an "enormous" administrative burden on cities such as New York, where the collection and study of the records of more than 1.4 million children in eight months would be required.

— Prohibited welfare officials from asking the religion of an applicant for public assistance. The governor said that, while applicants are not required to declare their religion, such information helps in dealing with the ill and protects the religious interest of welfare children.
